KEVIN HAMBLY

HEAD COACH

SIXTH SEASON AS HEAD COACH

11TH SEASON OVERALL AT ILLINOIS

Kevin Hambly has taken Illinois volleyball to new heights in his tenure in Champaign. In his five years as head coach, Illinois is 114-51 with four trips to the NCAA Sweet 16, including 2011's historic run to the national championship match.

As a result, Hambly was named 2011 Volleyball Magazine's National Coach of the Year. Following the season, director of athletics Mike Thomas announced an extension of Hambly's contract through the 2016 season.

In 2013, Hambly guided the Fighting Illini through the most difficult schedule in the nation, in which the Illini captured 10 wins during a school-record 22 matches against ranked opponents. The Illini were the only team in the country to face all four teams that reached the Final Four, and took on eight of the 10 teams that finished the year ranked in the AVCA Top 10. Despite the monstrous slate, Hambly led the Orange and Blue to a fourth-place finish in the Big Ten in a year in which the conference was arguably the best it had ever been and by far the strongest conference in the nation. After a rough non-conference slate, the Illini entered Big Ten play sitting at 4-6 on the year. A tremendous second-half push in which the Orange and Blue won seven of their final nine matches punched their ticket to the NCAA Tournament, earning the No. 13 overall seed. The Illini defeated Morehead State and No. 22 Marquette to return to the Sweet 16 for the fourth time in five years under Hambly, where No. 19 Purdue finally ended Illinois' run.

Three Illini earned postseason honors under Hambly in 2013, as sophomore Jocelynn Birks was named Third-Team AVCA All-America, First-Team All-Northeast Region and was a unanimous All-Big Ten selection. Senior Jennifer Beltran, who became Illinois' all-time career digs leader early in the season and finished ranked second all-time in the Big Ten, captured All-America honorable mention and All-Region honors, while junior Liz McMahon claimed All-Region and All-Big Ten honorable mentions.

In a "tough act to follow" situation, a young 2012 team faced several challenges. With two rookies and a sophomore replacing a pair of All-American outside hitters, Hambly's team had a lot to learn in seemingly no time at all, facing the third-most difficult schedule in the nation. The Illini swept No. 15 Iowa State in the 2012 home opener, then closed out the pre-conference season with a sweep of the Time Warner Cable Texas Invitational, which included a road victory over eventual NCAA champion No. 6 Texas. Other season highlights included a come-from-behind 3-2 victory at Michigan State, in true-freshman setter Alexis Viliunas' first career start, and a 3-1 victory over future NCAA semifinalist Michigan on Senior Night.

In 2011, Illinois reached several milestones. The team swept a season series from four-time defending NCAA champion Penn State for the first time in school history. Illinois was the last team to lose its first match, starting the season 20-0 and resulting in the school's first-ever No. 1 ranking. A total of six schools held the No. 1 ranking, but none for longer than Illinois. The Illini won the Gainesville Regional to advance to the program's first National Semifinal since 1988 The Kevin Hambly serves as the President of the American Volleyball Coaches Association.

Illini defeated No. 1 USC in the National Semifinal San Antonio in an epic five-set match. The final point lasted more than a minute and was one of the top plays on ESPN's SportsCenter that night. With the victory over the Women of Troy, the Illini advanced to meet UCLA in the school's first ever national championship match.

Following the championship run, Hambly was elected president of the American Volleyball Coaches Association, a post he took over in January 2013 and which runs through December 2015.

Illinois went 26-6 in his first year as head coach, finishing in sole possession of second place in the Big Ten and reaching the Sweet 16.

His second year as a head coach brought victories over a pair of No. 2-ranked teams, including eventual national champion Penn State, who fell to the Illini in five sets in front of the first sellout at Huff Hall in 18 years.

Since his arrival in Champaign, the Illini have garnered three top-10 recruiting classes, including the 2011 Class that ranked No. 3 nationally. The 2011 team included 11 players who were top-60 prospects of their respective class, including Liz McMahon, who was No. 3; Anna Dorn, who was No. 6; Colleen Ward, who was No. 7; and Michelle Bartsch, who was No. 16.

His teams have gone head-to-head with some of the powers of the game, both in the Big Ten and in the non-conference, and have done so with a measure of success. The Illini are 37-13 in the pre-conference schedule in the five years with Hambly as head coach and have finished runner-up in the Big Ten Conference three times.

A total of seven players have earned 11 All-America honors, including outside hitter Laura DeBruler, who became the fourth First-Team AVCA All-American in 2009, and Ward, who accomplished that feat in 2011. In addition, Bartsch was named a First Team All-American by Volleyball Magazine.

FUN FACTS ON KEVIN HAMBLY

How I started playing volleyball: My mom bribed me to try out for my school team with a Georgetown Hoya hat.

The Illini have produced in the classroom, combining for 43 Academic All-Big Ten honors in the last five seasons, with Johannah Bangert being one of just six players to earn First Team Academic All-America in 2010. In 2012, the Illini led the conference with 10 All-Big Ten selections.

The interest in the volleyball program is at a height that hasn't been seen in a generation. Hambly is involved in the community, a regular requested speaker for area groups. He conducts Chalk Talks for the Illinois volleyball booster club, "The Networkers," before every home game, giving fans an inside look at the scouting report for that night's match. Membership in that organization continues to grow.

That has translated in a spike in attendance where the team had three crowds of 3,900 or more in 2011, including a sellout crowd of 4,261 in an undefeated showdown with Purdue. The 2012 season featured five crowds of 3,000 or more, including the largest opening night crowd in Illini history, when 3,770 fans "Stuffed" Huff for the home opener against No. 15 Iowa State and the 2011 NCAA banner-raising ceremony. Illinois had an additional five 3,000+ crowds in 2013, including a mark of 7,061 against Iowa at State Farm Center, the largest volleyball-only crowd in program history. The fan base in 2013 set a new all-time record for average attendance, with a mean crowd size of 3,117.

Twelve of the top 20 all-time Illinois crowds have come in the Hambly era, including four of the top five.

Hambly was named the seventh head coach in the program's history and just the third in the last quarter century on Jan. 8, 2008. He replaced Don Hardin, who retired after 13 years as program head at Illinois. Hambly, who had a number of years of international coaching experience, served as assistant coach for the Fighting Illini for five years prior, the first two years as a volunteer assistant and the last three as a full-time assistant. His impact was felt in every area of the program.

Hambly was in charge of practice planning, training and scouting as well as recruiting in his final years as an assistant. The level of play was raised over his time at Illinois, bringing with him many of the techniques and philosophies he developed under Toshi Yoshida, the U.S. National team coach for the 2004 Olympics in Athens.

With Hambly serving as an assistant coach, the U.S. went from 12th to first in the Federation of International Volleyball (FIVB) world rankings in the nine months leading up to the games for just the second time. In those four years, the U.S. won the NORCECA championship four years in a row, won a silver medal at the World Championships, a bronze medal at the World Cup and a gold and two bronze medals at World Grand Prix Tournaments.

A native of Simi Valley, California, Hambly was an All-American in volleyball at Royal High School and chose to play that sport at BYU, leading the nation in blocks in 1995. Hambly was named to the Volleyball Monthly All-Freshman Team in 1992, was selected as a third-team All-American in 1994 and earned American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) First Team All-America honors in 1995. The Cougars ended the season ranked in the top 10 in the nation three times and came within one win of the Final Four twice in Hambly's playing days.

Hambly played professionally for Montpellier University Club in France, leading the league in hitting efficiency and in blocks before beginning his coaching career as an assistant at UNLV in 1997. In his four years in Las Vegas, the Rebels produced nine all-conference performers. Hambly also founded and directed the Rebel volleyball club, which evolved into the highly respected Club Las Vegas team and founded the men's volleyball club team at UNLV. While at BYU he also served as the head coach of the Highline Volleyball Club's 16 & under teams for two years.

His experience with USA Volleyball began in 2001 where, in addition to serving as an assistant for the national team, he was also the head coach of the USA Women's National Training Team for two tournaments during his tenure. In 2002, he guided the team to fifth at the Pan American Cup in Mexico. In 2003, he led the team to third place at the Mexicali Centenarian Women's Volleyball Cup and second at the Pan American Cup. Hambly continues to serve USA Volleyball as a consultant during try-outs.

He also served as an assistant coach for Minnesota of the United States Professional Volleyball, helping lead the Chill to the league championship in 2002.

Hambly graduated with highest honors from the University of Illinois in 2006 with a bachelor's of science degree in recreation, sport and tourism with an emphasis in sports management. He and his wife Mary (Coleman) Hambly, a 1999 Illinois graduate and former Illini volleyball player, have two daughters, Quinn and Maura.

HILLARY HAEN

ASSISTANT COACH

FIRST SEASON

Hillary Haen was hired as an assistant coach for the Fighting Illini in January 2014. She will serve as the recruiting coordinator, will work directly with the setters and run the offense. Haen returns to her alma mater, where she led the Orange and Blue to three straight NCAA Regional appearances as the Illini's setter from 2007-10.

Haen played 115 matches for the Fighting Illini from 2007-10, taking over as the starting setter her sophomore year. The Crystal Lake, Illinois, native finished her career ranked fourth all-time at Illinois with 3,956 assists, including 1,471 as a senior. As the quarterback of the Illini offense in 2009, Haen ranked second in the Big Ten and 16th in the nation in assists (11.42 per set), garnering AVCA All-America and All-Region honorable mentions, while earning All-Big Ten honors.

She topped that performance in her final season, earning third-team All-America honors from both the AVCA and Volleyball Magazine, capturing an All-Mideast Region First Team selection and her second-straight All-Big Ten award. Additionally, she was a star in the classroom, notching three straight Academic All-Big Ten awards and earning Academic All-District honors in 2009.

Following her Illinois career, Haen coached three different programs at the high school and club level. In 2011, she coached at Eastside Volleyball Club, and she took over as the owner of the Peoria Elite Volleyball

She then served as the head varsity volleyball coach at Illinois Valley Central High School for the 2012-13 season, where she managed a staff of two assistant coaches and a volunteer.

Haen also has work experience in the business world, having served as a staff accountant and a human resources representative for Caterpillar, Inc. While there, Haen focused on team-building and leadership development.

SCOTT LESERMAN

ASSISTANT COACH

FIRST SEASON

Scott Leserman was hired as an assistant coach for the Fighting Illini in July 2014. Leserman returns to Champaign after serving as a volunteer assistant coach in 2010.

Leserman comes to the Illini from Northwestern, where he served as an assistant coach during the 2012 and 2013 seasons. While in Evanston, Leserman worked extensively on scouting the opposition and the defensive side of the game. In his first season with Northwestern, the Wildcats jumped out to their best start in program history, winning the first 11 matches of the season to register their longest winning streak since 1983. The 'Cats also posted 11 road wins, marking their most victories away from home in over 20 years.

Prior to his return to the Big Ten, Leserman spent the 2011 season as an assistant coach at Loyola. Under Leserman's guidance, Rambler Laura Purcell was named to the All-Horizon League Newcomer team.

Following a successful playing career, Leserman came to Champaign in 2009 to earn his master's degree in sport management at Illinois. As a graduate student, Leserman served as a team manager for the Fighting Illini. Upon receiving his degree, Leserman spent the 2010 campaign as Illinois' volunteer assistant coach under Kevin Hambly, where he helped the Illini to their third-straight Sweet 16 appearance as the No. 8 national seed.

Leserman began his coaching career on the heels of a prolific playing career at Vassar College, where he was a four-year starter and three-year captain. He helped Vassar to a runner-up finish in the 2008 Molten Invitational Tournament, the championship tournament for Division III, and earned AVCA Second-

Leserman's name is scattered throughout Vassar's record book, where he is ranked in the top 10 in 15 season or career statistical categories, and he received the college's Frances D. Fergusson Coaches Award, presented to the athlete who exemplifies commitment to his/her sport.

The Manhattan Beach, California, native played two seasons at Mira Costa High School, helping his team to a CIF-SS runner-up finish in 2005. He also won two Junior Olympic Gold Medals with Riptides Volleyball Club in 2004 and 2005.

Leserman earned a bachelor's of arts degree in economics from Vassar College in 2009 and received a master's in sport management from Illinois in 2010. He and his wife, Emily, reside in Champaign.

JOHANNAH BANGERT

DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS

SECOND SEASON

Johannah Bangert joined the Illini volleyball staff in January 2013 as director of operations. Bangert's duties include coordinating scheduling, assisting with visiting teams' travel, and compliance. She serves as the marketing, equipment and event management liaison, while also working directly with the Illini Networkers, the volleyball booster club.

Bangert played every match at middle blocker for Illinois from 2007-10 and graduated as the Illini's all-time blocking leader, stuffing a total of 653. Bangert holds the Big Ten record for career block assists, putting up 613 throughout her career.

A member of the sixth-ranked recruiting class in 2007, Bangert hit .588 with 11 kills against Bowling Green in her collegiate debut. The middle blocker finished her rookie season ranked fourth in the Big Ten in hitting percentage (.358) and eighth in aces per set (0.26).

As a sophomore, Bangert broke Illinois' single-season block assist record, tallying 195, and became just the second Illini in history to stuff 200 total blocks in a season, recording 202. The middle led the nation in blocks (1.60 per set) and earned All-Big Ten and All-Mideast Region honorable mentions.

Bangert led the nation in blocks once again in 2009 (1.58) and was named All-America and All-Region honorable mention, along with All-Big Ten.

In her senior season, Bangert broke the Big Ten all-time block assists record and set a new Illinois total blocks record, surpassing Mary Eggers' 22-year-old record by nearly 100 with 653 total career blocks. She is the only Illini ever to break the 500-mark in block assists, finishing with a conference-best 613.

Throughout her career, Bangert was named Defensive

Following her playing career at Illinois, Bangert signed a professional volleyball contract with the Ljungby Volleyboll Klubb in Sweden, where she played in 2011-12.

CHAD GORDON

VOLUNTEER ASSISTANT COACH

FIRST SEASON

Chad Gordon joined the Fighting Illini coaching staff in June 2014 as a volunteer assistant. Gordon has a wealth of coaching experience under his belt, having begun his coaching career as a freshman in high school, serving as the assistant coach for the JV girls volleyball team as an underclassman and assisting the varsity team his junior and senior years at The Harker School in San Jose, California.

During his high school coaching career, Gordon aided the varsity team that advanced to the state championship match in 2007. Outside of school, Gordon served as an assistant coach for the Stingray Volleyball Club from 2007-09. Gordon continued his club coaching career with Bay to Bay, his former club team, during the summers following his first two years at college.

While a student at UC-Santa Barbara, Gordon served as a student assistant coach for the Gauchos, who advanced to the NCAA Tournament in 2013. Additionally, he spent his final two years of college as an assistant coach with the 18-1s at the Santa Barbara Volleyball Club.

A talented setter, Gordon played five seasons for Bay to Bay in Northern California. In his 18s year, under head coach Ken Shibuya, Bay to Bay became the first team in the league ever to go undefeated (40-0). He continued his playing career at UCSB, playing for

RANDY BALLARD

ATHLETIC TRAINER

14TH SEASON

Randy Ballard enters his 14th season as an athletic trainer for the volleyball, cross country and track and field teams. A 1999 graduate of Kansas State, Ballard earned his master's degree in kinesiology from the Texas in 2001.

The Concordia, Kansas, native is no stranger to working with world-class athletes. Ballard has worked as an athletic trainer several times for the USA Track & Field teams. Most recently, he served as an athletic trainer for USA Track and Field at the 2008 Olympic Games in Beijing, China.

The previous year, Ballard was an athletic trainer for the 2007 U.S. Track & Field World Championships team in Osaka, Japan. He also served as the Head Athletic Trainer at the 2006 Cross Country World Championships in Fukuoka, Japan.

He has also served as therapist for numerous Olympians and world champions including Perdita Felicien, Bershawn Jackson, and Lauren Williams.

Randy has a great interest and expertise in manual therapies and the rehabilitation aspects of the athletic training world. Having learned from numerous well-renowned therapists, Ballard brings a well-rounded skill set to the athletic training room. Along with being integral in the the therapy and rehabilitation aspects of sports medicine, Ballard helped develop the physical competency testing that the volleyball team uses to help assess and develop their training programming. Randy has also presented at several professional and coaching conferences on therapy, testing and rehabilitation topics.

Prior to Illinois, Ballard spent three seasons as a student athletic trainer for the Kansas State athletic program before moving to Texas. In Austin, Ballard worked primarily with the Longhorn football and men's track and field programs.

Randy and his wife, Lori, have a daughter, Avery, and a son, Ryder.

MIKE THOMAS

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

FOURTH YEAR

Mike Thomas is in his fourth year at the University of Illinois in 2014-15 after being named the school's 18th director of athletics on Aug. 10, 2011, following six successful years as the director of athletics at the University of Cincinnati. A 29-year veteran of college athletics administration, Thomas is leading the Fighting Illini athletic program to national prominence.

In three years leading the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics at Illinois, Thomas has executed a number of major projects. Thomas launched the three-year, $170 million State Farm Center renovation project – including a landmark 30-year, $60 million naming rights agreement that is the largest for a college-only venue in the country. Construction started in winter 2014 and will be completed in full before the 2016-17 season.

Thomas spearheaded a $7.2 million project at Memorial Stadium that included a new video board, ribbon boards, auxiliary video boards, sound system and control room to enhance the fan experience at Illini football games. Along with head coach Mike Small, Thomas oversaw the fundraising for and construction of the $5.5 million Lauritsen/Wohlers Outdoor Golf Practice Facility. In addition, the $1.2 million second-phase renovation of Huff Hall, which featured a new floor and lower bowl bleachers among other upgrades, was completed in summer 2014. And in spring 2014, Thomas moved forward with two studies – renovating the south and east sides of Memorial Stadium and developing a master plan for Olympic sport venues – to be completed in September 2014.

On the branding front, Thomas guided Illinois through an 18-month collaboration with Nike, completed in April 2014, that resulted in a new brand and identity system including new uniforms and consistent colors, logos, lettering and numerals. He also led a group that signed a 10-year agreement with Learfield Sports estimated to be worth more than $60 million to become DIA's exclusive marketing partner and multimedia rights holder, and launched "Illinois. Our State. Our Team." as the theme for Fighting Illini athletics.

During Thomas' tenure, the I FUND has seen impressive growth in donations fueled by the launch of the Illinois Renaissance to renovate State Farm Center, with first-year fundraising efforts for the campaign totaling nearly $95 million in cash and pledges. Total I FUND fundraising of $29.2 million for 2013-14 marked a record high and is 73 percent increase over 2011-12.

Thomas and the I FUND also announced an ambitious long-term goal of "15 x 15 x 2020," which aspires to more than double both the donor base to 15,000 and total amount donated to scholarships to $15 million annually by the year 2020.

On the competitive front, Illini teams have compiled one NCAA championship, six Big Ten titles, and 11 individual NCAA titles during Thomas' three years at the helm. In 2012, Thomas' first year at Illinois, the Fighting Illini finished 21st overall in the Learfield Sports Directors' Cup standings, marking the program's second-best finish in the 21-year history of the award.

Thomas began his tenure in Champaign-Urbana by hiring Tim Beckman as the Fighting Illini head football coach in December 2011 and naming John Groce and Matt Bollant the head coaches of Illinois men's and women's basketball, respectively, in April 2012.

In the classroom, Fighting Illini student-athletes posted an impressive 3.23 overall GPA for the Fall 2013 semester and 3.14 for Spring 2014. Ten teams posted a perfect 1,000 in the NCAA Academic Progress Rate (APR) for the 2012-13 academic year – baseball, men's cross country, men's golf, men's gym, wrestling, women's golf, softball, women's soccer, women's tennis and volleyball – while five earned the NCAA Public Recognition Award by ranking in the top 10 percent of their sport nationally for the four-year period ending with 2012-13: baseball, men's golf, women's golf, soccer and women's tennis. For the third straight year, Fighting Illini student-athletes, coaches and staff completed over 7,000 hours of community service.

Prior to his move to Illinois, Thomas revamped and led a vibrant Cincinnati Bearcats athletic program from 2005-11, directing the school's launch into the Big East Conference and earning several Big East championships, as well as multiple Big East academic excellence awards.

In 2006, Thomas hired head football coach Brian Kelly and the Cincinnati football team made program history in the three following seasons by achieving a 34-6 record, consecutive Big East Championships and appearances in the Orange and Sugar Bowls. The 2009 season ended with UC finishing 12-0 and No. 3 in the final BCS rankings. Thomas also hired Butch Jones, who went on to ensure Cincinnati's dominance on the conference scene, sharing in a Big East title in 2011 and 2012.

Thomas brought back a Bearcat when he hired former UC assistant Mick Cronin as head men's basketball coach in 2006. Cronin returned the program to national prominence with appearances in the NCAA tournament the past four seasons.

UC grew to be one of the most recognized schools in the 16-member Big East for academic success and earning multiple Big East Academic Excellence Awards, including a league-high five Big East Academic Excellence Awards in 2009-10.

The overall APR of all Bearcats programs also increased during Thomas' tenure. In the final APR report from his tenure, five UC athletic teams earned perfect APR scores of 1,000, including men's basketball. In that same time period, the Graduate Success Rate (GSR) for student-athletes increased from 66 percent to 77 percent.

From 2006-11, UC's student-athletes emerged as community leaders, with annual community service hours growing from 1,000 to over 5,500.

On the external side, the University of Cincinnati grew at a tremendous rate. Thomas increased UC's athletic department budget 20 percent, while simultaneously reducing the annual operating deficit by more than $6 million.

UC established single-season attendance and revenue records for football in each of the three seasons from 2008-10. Football attendance skyrocketed, with season-ticket package sales exploding by 277 percent since 2006 and resulting in record football revenues.

In terms of donor development, membership in UCATS increased by almost 300 percent during Thomas' tenure and the department raised $70 million during his arrival. Thomas raised private funds and built the Sheakley Athletics Center, providing football and other UC athletic teams much needed additional practice and competitive space.

In 2008-09, Thomas revamped UC's multimedia rights partnership, reaching an agreement with IMG College for a new multimedia rights partnership, increasing overall revenues in this area by over $17 million.

Prior to taking the athletic director position at UC, Thomas spent five years as the Director of Athletics at the University of Akron and seven years as associate athletic director at the University of Virginia, an institution known for achieving impressive success both academically and athletically, before bringing that model to Akron. Virginia finished in the Top 25 in the Director's Cup in each year of Thomas' tenure there while at the same time finishing in the Top 10 nationally in student-athlete graduation rates.

Under Thomas' direction, Akron rose from last place to second among Mid-American Conference schools in the Director's Cup annual rankings. Simultaneously, Akron vaulted from last to second place in the MAC Academic Achievement Awards. Thomas increased the financial base of the Akron athletics program through increasing corporate sponsorship levels by 750 percent and boosted annual giving to athletics to its highest level in the school's history. Community support was rallied, with record increases shown in both football and basketball attendance.

During this time period, the Zips won their first and only MAC football championship and participated in the program's lone FBS bowl game in history. Thomas' hire of men's basketball coach Keith Dambrot led to unparalleled success on the hardwood with Dambrot's program becoming one of the most successful in the MAC over the past 10 seasons, including eight postseason appearances. While at Akron, support services and facilities for academic support for student-athletes were significantly improved, resulting in jumps in grade point averages and graduation rates of UA student-athletes.

During his career in collegiate athletics, Thomas has coordinated over $350 million in facility construction and renovation, including $25 million in capital improvements at Akron that featured a new indoor fieldhouse and golf facility, a football practice complex, and a softball facility. He also spearheaded the new on-campus football stadium and was instrumental in the development and launching stages of the $61 million facility, which opened in September of 2009.

At Virginia, Thomas served as a member of the senior staff and was sport oversight for eight programs. He served as the department liaison for the $86 million renovation to UVA's football stadium and oversaw several other capital projects. In addition, Thomas served as the Chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Men's and Women's Swimming and Diving Committee and also served on the ACC Sportsmanship Committee.

Recognized for his administrative acumen by his peers, Thomas has served on several national and conference committees, including the NCAA Division I Championship/Sports Management Cabinet (where he also served as the NCAA men's basketball liaison to the cabinet and as a member of the cabinet's four-person Administrative Committee) and the NCAA Men's Basketball Issues Committee. Thomas also previously chaired the Big East Championship and Competition Committee and served as a member of the NCAA Division I Championships/Competition Cabinet, the NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Issues Committee, the NCAA Division I Academics/Eligibility/Compliance Cabinet, the NCAA Postseason Bowl Licensing Subcommittee and the Division IA Athletics Director's Association Legislative Review Committee. He presently serves on the Big Ten Legislative Review Committee.

Twice during his career, Thomas has received distinction for his efforts and dedication as a director of athletics, garnering the General Robert R. Neyland Outstanding Athletics Director Award in 2005 at Akron and then again in April of 2008 at Cincinnati. He has been recognized by the Cincinnati Sports Professionals Network as the 2009-10 Sports Executive of the Year.

Prior to his experience at Virginia, Thomas spent seven years at the University of Denver as assistant athletic director for internal operations, serving as chief financial officer and overseeing the departments of compliance, merchandising, and facilities. He began his athletic administration career at the University of Iowa as an administrative and operations intern.

Thomas received his bachelor's degree in business administration from Colorado State University in 1983, and his master's degree in athletic administration from Western Illinois University in 1986. He and his wife, Jenifer, have four children: Vince, Joey, Mick and Meredith.

RECORD-SETTING FAN SUPPORT HELPS ILLINI TACKLE NATION'S TOUGHEST SLATE

Libero Jennifer Beltran became Illinois' all-time digs leader on Oct. 12, 2013, finishing her career ranked second all-time in Big Ten history with 2,220 career digs.

ILLINI REACH 14TH NCAA REGIONAL

Illinois earned a bid to the 2013 NCAA Tournament for the 21st time in program history, and with a pair of wins in the first two rounds, the Fighting Illini advanced to the NCAA Regionals for the 14th time. The Illini earned a national seed, allowing them the opportunity to host the opening rounds for the 15th time, and with the NCAA having pre-selected Illinois' State Farm Center as one of four Regional sites, the Illini had the rare opportunity to play all three of their NCAA Tournament matches at home.

2013 marked the first time that the Illini have been pre-selected to host the Regional, but the Sweet 16 and Elite Eight were held at Huff Hall in 1992 and at Kenney Gym in 1987 and 1988. The two regionals at Kenney led to Illinois' back-to-back Final Four appearances, while the Illini set a then-NCAA record for attendance in 1992.

BIRKS, BELTRAN, MCMAHON EARN MAJOR HONORS

Sophomore Jocelynn Birks became the 15th Illini to be named AVCA All-America, earning a Third Team selection, while senior Jennifer Beltran picked up an AVCA All-America Honorable Mention. The pair both earned AVCA All-Northeast Region selections, and junior Liz McMahon garnered an honorable mention. Additionally, Birks was a unanimous All-Big Ten selection, and McMahon earned All-Big Ten Honorable Mention.

The pair of outside hitters combined for 891 kills and 176 blocks on the season, adding 40 service aces, while six-rotation OH Birks had 278 digs. Birks totaled 500 kills on the year to post her second consecutive 500-kill season, a feat achieved just twice before by members of the Fighting Illini. She finished the season ranked fifth in the Big Ten and 40th in the nation in kills per set, fourth in the Big Ten and 38th in the nation in points, and was fourth in both categories during conference play. Additionally, her 17 service aces in Big Ten matches tied for seventh in the conference.

Beltran put the exclamation point on her fabulous career, graduating with the second-most career digs in Big Ten history and as Illinois' all-time digs leader. She posted four of the top seven single-season digs performances, and earned her first All-America Honorable Mention after picking up an all-region honorable mention as a true freshman in 2010. Beltran put up her fourth straight 500-dig season in 2013, ranking third in the Big Ten with 526 digs, averaging 4.24 digs per set.

CAN YOU DIG IT?

In her first two seasons at Illinois, Jennifer Beltran recorded the top two single-season digs performances in school history. She followed with a 500-dig season in 2012, good for sixth at the time, and 526 in 2013, to post her fourth season in the top seven. Beltran entered her final season in second place all-time with 1,694 career digs, and on Oct. 12, the libero tallied 11 digs at Indiana to pass Ashley Edinger '09 and become Illinois' all-time career digs leader.

On Oct. 27, Beltran recorded 21 digs to help lead the Illini past No. 16 Wisconsin in a key road matchup, and in doing so, became the first Illini ever to reach 2,000 career digs. She finished with a total of 2,220 digs, nearly 300 more than Edinger in second.

ILLINOIS PLAYS NATION'S TOUGHEST SCHEDULE

• According to the NCAA's SOS rankings, Illinois played the nation's most difficult schedule of the year, and quite possibly the hardest slate any team has played in a long time. The Illini played an NCAA-leading 19 matches against teams in the RPI top 25, including eight vs. teams in the top 10. Twenty-four of their 33 matches were against teams in the top 50. Illinois' lowest nonconference opponent was #97 Morehead State, with just two Big Ten teams sitting outside the top 100 (#119 Iowa, #122 Indiana).

• Based on the final AVCA Coaches Poll, the Illini faced all of the top four teams, eight of the top 10 and a total of 14 in the top 25. Of their 33 matches, 19 were played against teams that were ranked in the final poll.

• Of Illinois' 21 regular-season opponents, 19 appeared in at least one poll, including all nine of the Illini's non-conference competition. Only Iowa and Indiana were left out of every poll, while Long Beach State and Northwestern were receiving votes at the time of competition but never made it into the top 25.

• Champaign was the site of many great competitions, as seven of the final top-10 teams came to town. The Illini opened the home season in style with visits by then-No. 2 Texas and No. 6 Washington, who both advanced to the Final Four. Illinois hosted national champion then-No. 4 Penn State on Oct. 18, No. 7 Nebraska (ranked 12th at the time) on Sept. 28, No. 8 Purdue twice (ranked 18 and 20 during the matches) and No. 10 Minnesota (then-No. 11) on Nov. 30. Additionally, NCAA Runner-up Wisconsin came to State Farm Center for the Regional, but did not face Illinois in the Tournament.

• The Illini faced a school-record 22 ranked opponents, capturing 10 wins against teams ranked at the time of competition, which is second only to the 2011 season, when the Illini went 11-4. Illinois' highest win was at No. 11 Iowa State on Sept. 8 (3-0). Twenty-two is the most ranked opponents for an NCAA team since 1996, when Stanford faced 23 en route to its third national title in five years. The Cardinal faced 30 ranked teams in 1982, the first year of the AVCA poll, which is the unofficial NCAA record. Stanford played 43 total matches that season, going 30-13. The following year, the Cardinal faced 27 ranked teams over just 31 matches.

• According to the final RPI, Illinois played eight matches against top-10 teams, 19 vs. top 25, 24 against teams in the top 50, and its lowest opponent was just #122 (Indiana). The Illini dropped four matches to the top three teams, including a pair of five-setters against #1 Penn State and #2 Texas, while defeating #9 Wisconsin 3-1, #11 Marquette 3-1 and #13 Kentucky 3-2.

• The #16 Illini gathered 11 wins over top-50 opponents, including #9 Wisconsin (3-1), #11 Marquette (3-1), #13 Kentucky (3-2), #17 Florida State (3-0), #21 Purdue (3-0) and #22 Michigan State (3-1). Illinois won six matches against top-25 competition, while taking just two losses to teams outside of the top-25. Of Illinois' 11 top-50 wins, six came on the road, including a 3-1 victory at NCAA Runner-Up Wisconsin on Oct. 23.

• Sixteen of Illinois' 21 regular-season opponents earned bids to the 2013 NCAA Tournament, including eight of the Illini's nine nonconference foes. Long Beach State is the only nonconference team on the Illini's schedule to miss the 2013 postseason, while just four Big Ten members were left out. Of the 16 national seeds, only six did not face Illinois. Illinois hosted all of the top three seeds, in #1 Texas, #2 Penn State and #3 Washington.

• Illinois faced the majority of the teams who made a run in the NCAA Tournament, including being the only team in the nation to take on all four Final Four qualifiers. The Illini took National Champion Penn State to five sets at home and dropped a four-setter to the Nittany Lions in State College. Illinois defeated NCAA Runner-Up Wisconsin, 3-1, on the road, and took sets from Texas (3-2) and Washington (3-1), who each reached the Final Four. Additionally, the Illini took on six of the eight Regional Final qualifiers, including Purdue and Nebraska, along with 10 of the 15 teams (not including Illinois) that reached the Regional Semifinals: San Diego, Florida State, Minnesota and Michigan State.

- Of the nine teams Illinois faced in preseason tournaments, four won their respective conferences. Illinois took on Texas (Big 12), San Diego (West Coast) and Washington (Pac-12), along with the top three finishers in the ACC: Duke, Florida State and UNC, respectively. Illinois' first and second round opponents were also conference champions, Morehead State (OVC) and Marquette (BIG EAST).

LATE WIN STREAK SECURES POSTSEASON BID

After struggling to put together back-to-back wins throughout the majority of the season, the Fighting Illini hit their stride in the second half of Big Ten play, winning six straight matches, including three over ranked opponents, to start November.

Illinois swept at Iowa on Nov. 2, then found itself in an 0-2 hole at home against No. 17 Michigan. Feeling the pressure of their NCAA Tournament hopes slipping away, the Illini burst out of intermission a new team, coming all the way back to beat the Wolverines, 3-2. The Orange and Blue kept it up the following Saturday with a 3-1 upset of No. 13 Michigan State for their first undefeated week of the season.

Illinois upped the ante the following weekend by going a perfect 6-0 in sets to capture a pair of sweeps over Indiana and No. 18 Purdue. The weekend marked the first time the Illini posted back-to-back 3-0 wins since the 2011 NCAA First and Second Rounds, when they swept Central Michigan and Marquette.

The Orange and Blue made it six straight when they took down Ohio State, 3-1, at St. John Arena, to capture their 15th win of the season and clinch a season record of at least .500—a postseason requirement the Illini fell just short of in 2012.

During the winning streak, the Illini claimed nine-straight set wins from the third set vs. Michigan State to the first against OSU, which was the longest set winning streak since early 2010, when the Illini won 17 consecutive sets across six matches, including a historic sweep at No. 2 Texas.

ILLINI SET NEW AVERAGE ATTENDANCE RECORD

- Over 16 home matches in 2013, the Illini brought in the second-largest total fan attendance in school history, with 49,871, and averaged the biggest crowd size ever, bringing in 3,117 fans per match. The 2013 Illini broke the record set in 1992, when Illinois last hosted the NCAA Regional and set a then-NCAA record with 52,666 total fans, averaging 3,098.

- Illinois played in front of seven 3,000+ crowds at home and an additional five on the road, including 8,283 at Nebraska and 5,160 at Purdue.

- Illinois hosted Iowa on Sept. 27 at State Farm Center in the Big Ten season opener. The event drew a crowd of 7,061, the second-largest crowd in school history and the largest crowd ever for a volleyball-only event (the record, set in 2009 at 7,632, was held in conjunction with basketball's Illini Madness promotion).

- The following evening, 3,476 fans came to watch Illinois take on No. 12 Nebraska, a top-15 Huff crowd.

- The Illini drew a total of 3,538 fans at the "Stuff Huff" match vs. No. 6 Washington on Sept. 13. That mark sat just behind the 2012 "Stuff Huff" match in 11th all-time at Huff Hall.

- On Nov. 16, the Illini topped Stuff Huff, when 3,632 fans packed Huff Hall to watch the Illini defeat No. 18 Purdue in straight sets, once again marking the 11th-largest crowd at Huff Hall.

- Illinois hosted the NCAA Regional at State Farm Center on Dec. 13-14, and despite a blizzard outside, the Illini attracted a crowd of 4,631 to the Regional Semifinal against No. 19 Purdue, which included roughly 1,000 Illinois students.

- Illinois was 10-6 at home on the season, with all six losses coming to teams in the top 20. The Illini are 72-19 in front of a home crowd since the start of 2008. 17 of the 19 losses came to teams in the top 25, including three to No. 1 Penn State.

- Illinois finished the season ranked seventh in the nation in total attendance and ninth in average crowd size. Five of the top 10 teams in both categories are members of the Big Ten: Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois and Penn State.

ACADEMIC ANNA

Redshirt junior Anna Dorn was named CoSIDA Academic All-District for the second-straight season, after registering a 3.96 GPA along with her solid play on the court. The fourth-year Kinesiology major was one of just six players in District 5 to be named to the First Team, joining fellow-Big Ten members Kristen Kelsay (MSU) and Faye Adelaja (Purdue). With her second All-District honor, Dorn joins an elite group of just three other Illini who have tabbed multiple First Team honors, a feat most recently met by Director of Operations Johannah Bangert, who is the sole Illini to have three All-District honors, including First Team nominations in 2009 and 2010.

ILLINOIS STORMS BACK ON MICHIGAN—TWICE

On Oct. 5, Illinois won the first set, 25-18, but then found itself in a 1-2 hole in Ann Arbor, as Michigan dominated sets two and three, 25-15 and 25-10. The Illini did not give up, battling to tie the match with a 25-20 win in set four, then outlasted the No. 14 Wolverines, 15-13, in the fifth, to upset the ranked Michigan squad on its home court, 3-2.

Just over one month later, No. 17 Michigan came in to Huff Hall and soon cruised to a 2-0 match lead with set scores of 25-18 and 25-19. The Illini refused to be swept on their home court, as they came storming out of the locker room with a new-found will to win. Illinois took the third set, 25-21, then dominated in the fourth, 25-15, and kept the momentum going in the fifth, winning 15-10 to defeat the Wolverines in five for the second time this season, both live on the Big Ten Network.

AVCA Team Academic Award

Big Ten Freshman of the Week on Sept. 2. The middle blocker hit .625 with 11 kills in her first career match to lead the Illini past No. 18 Florida State in straight sets, then put up seven blocks against LBSU in the night cap. But it didn't stop there; in the weekend finale, Mayers registered 13 kills and nine blocks to power Illinois past No. 17 Kentucky, 3-2. She was just one block shy of registering the first kills-blocks double-double since Erin Johnson recorded 11 kills and 10 blocks at Minnesota on Sept. 23, 2011.

Mayers tabbed the weekly honor for a second time on Nov. 18, after leading the Illini to a 3-0 victory over No. 18 Purdue. The Fort Wayne, Indiana, native hit .700 with seven kills and five blocks to help the Illini to their first sweep of the Boilermakers since 2009.

HAMBLY CAPTURES 100TH CAREER VICTORY

It's been a long time coming, but Head Coach Kevin Hamby marked down his 100th career victory on Sept. 13, 2013, with a five-set victory over Arizona State. Hamby posted 82 wins through his first three seasons, but with such a challenging schedule in 2012, he had to wait another full season before finally crossing the three-digit plateau. Despite the implication that it took him a while, he is actually one of the fastest head coaches to ever reach the 100 mark, doing so in just 138 matches (.724).

Hamby is Illinois' third head coach to reach this milestone. Mike Hebert also captured his 100th win during his fifth season back on Oct. 30, 1987, in his 133rd match at Illinois. Don Hardin reached the milestone on Nov. 14, 2001, in match number 175 towards the end of his sixth season.

ILLINI VOLLEYBALL HISTORY

The University of Illinois recognizes the women's athletics program as part of the Athletic Association, naming Dr. Karol Kahrs to head the seven-sport program. Volleyball is one of the seven newly-incorporated varsity sports. Kahrs originally came to Illinois in 1966, coaching the volleyball and women's basketball teams.

The first UI varsity volleyball squad, coached by Kathleen Haywood, posts a 19-9 record, finishing fourth in the IIAIW State Championship and advancing to the second round of the MAIAW Regional Championship.

1975

In the first season of Big Ten championship play, Illinois posts a 4-2 record to finish second. Illinois tabs a 15-14 overall mark under Head Coach Terry Hite, finishing fourth in the IIAIW State Championship.

1976

Illinois posts a 25-14 record, going 3-1 in the Big Ten playoffs, good for fifth place. Illinois ties for fifth in the IIAIW State Championship.

1977

First-year Head Coach Chris Accornero leads UI to its second-highest win total in the program's history, posting a 38-17-6 record and advancing to the AIAW National Championship, where the team defeats North Carolina, 2-0.

1978

Illinois posts its fifth consecutive winning record, registering a 28-14-1 mark and earning third place in the Big Ten playoffs.

The Fighting Illini win the state tournament and place third at MAIAW Regionals. It was the last winning season at Illinois for five years.

1981

The NCAA absorbs the AIAW and takes control of Division I college volleyball.

1982

The Big Ten Conference sanctions women's athletics, incorporating a 13-match volleyball schedule. Illinois finishes 8-5 in league play, earning a third-place finish after losing its final two home conference matches.

1983

The Mike Hebert era begins with a 5-25 overall mark, 3-11 in Big Ten play.

Illinois establishes records for losses (25) and consecutive defeats (17). Illinois sweeps Wisconsin, 3-0, on Sept. 16, at Kenney Gym for Hebert's first Fighting Illini victory.

Kenney Gym seating capacity is listed at 800.

Illinois begins the season by winning nine of its first 12 matches, before settling into an 18-15 record, 6-7 in Big Ten play.

Hebert and Assistant Coach Don Hardin bring in a recruiting class consisting of middle hitter Lori Anderson, middle blocker Elizabeth Binkley, outside hitter Paula Douglass and setter Disa Johnson.

Middle blocker Denise Fracaro leads the team with 342 kills and a .226 attack percentage.

1985

Illinois explodes onto the national volleyball scene, winning its first 30 matches behind freshman sensation Mary Eggers.

The Big Ten adopts a round-robin, 18-match schedule, scrapping the four-team divisional playoff format.

Illinois posts a 38-2 regular-season record, finishing 16-2 in the Big Ten, one game back of league-champion Purdue. For the first time in school history, Illinois qualifies for NCAA tournament play, beating host Western Michigan, 3-1, and losing to USC, 3-0. The Western Michigan match features the first-ever radio broadcast of UI volleyball by WDWS AM-1400 radio.

Eggers is named Big Ten Freshman of the Year and Hebert is named Kaepa National Coach of the Year. Eggers pounds 431 kills and hits .361.

Illinois establishes a Big Ten attendance record, drawing 2,632 fans to Kenney Gym on Oct. 4, to see the Fighting Illini sweep Iowa, 3-0. Illinois enters the AVCA poll for the first time in school history, advancing as high as seventh.

Following the highly successful and visible season, Illinois signs Volleyball Magazine All-Americans Bridget Boyle and Nancy Brookhart.

After a near-miss in 1985, Illinois blasts through the Big Ten schedule undefeated, winning its first league title with an 18-0 mark, 36-3 overall.

Johnson quarterbacks the team to a .300 hitting percentage, good for fourth in the nation.

Illinois posts a 26-match winning streak and draws 26,034 fans to Kenney Gym with three sellouts.

Illinois dumps Northern Iowa, 3-1, and Western Michigan, 3-0, before losing to host Nebraska, 3-0, in the NCAA Midwest Regional finals.

Illinois is ranked in the top 15 in the nation for the entire season, finishing the season ranked ninth in the AVCA and 10th in the NCAA poll.

Mary Eggers led the nation with a .455 hitting percentage in 1986.

Eggers posts an astounding .455 hitting percentage to lead the nation. She earns AVCA/Russell First-Team All-America honors, the first of three consecutive First-Team All-America selections for the middle blocker. Eggers, Johnson and senior Sally Rea earn first-team All-Big Ten honors.

1987

Illinois reaches the pinnacle, establishing itself as the Midwest's best team. The Fighting Illini win 31 of 38 matches and post a 17-1 mark to win the Big Ten for the second consecutive year.

The Fighting Illini pound Nebraska, 3-0, in sold-out Kenney Gym in the NCAA Midwest Regional final. Hebert also earns his 300th career coaching victory and 100th Illinois win.

Eggers and Brookhart are named Co-Big Ten Players of the Year. Eggers earns AVCA/Russell First-Team All-America honors; Brookhart is named to the second team. Eggers hits .436, the second-best mark in the nation.

Illinois advances to the NCAA Final Four for the first time with a 3-0 victory over No. 8 Nebraska, before closing the season with a 3-0 loss to eventual NCAA Champion Hawaii in the NCAA Semifinals in Indianapolis.

Illinois is ranked No. 1 in the Volleyball Monthly preseason poll.

The Fighting Illini earn their fourth consecutive 30-win season, putting together a 30-4 record and winning the Big Ten with a perfect 18-0 mark.

The Fighting Illini beat Oklahoma, 3-0, to win the NCAA Midwest Regional and earn a second-consecutive trip to the NCAA Semifinals.

For the second year in a row, Hawaii ends the Illinois season, this time with a 3-1 victory.

ILLINI VOLLEYBALL HISTORY

Eggers is named Big Ten Player of the Year and a First-Team All-American for the third consecutive year, hitting .433 to lead the nation. Eggers concludes her college career as the all-time NCAA leader in hitting efficiency at .420. Six months later, Mary Eggers receives the prestigious Honda/Broderick Award symbolic of the nation's top collegiate volleyball player.

Eggers, Brookhart and Winsett earn First-Team All-Big Ten honors. Illinois draws a record 33,729 fans to Kenney Gym, an average of 2,108 fans per match.

Injuries to key performers Brookhart and junior middle blocker Laura Bush hold Illinois to a 27-8 record, 13-5 in the Big Ten.

Illinois dumps Big Ten champ Ohio State, 3-1, in the NCAA Midwest Regional Semifinal but loses to host Nebraska in the regional final.

Brookhart and Bush earn AVCA/Russell Second-Team All-America honors. Bush is also named a GTE/CoSIDA First-Team Academic All-American. Brookhart, Bush and Winsett are chosen First-Team All-Big Ten. Winsett quarterbacks Illinois to a .303 attack percentage, second in the nation.

In April, Illinois signs the nation's top recruiting class, as selected by Volleyball Monthly magazine. Illinois inks four "Fab 50" picks.

In June, UI administrators announce the Fighting Illini are moving to Huff Gym, increasing seating capacity to 4,050.

In its last season in Kenney Gym, Illinois draws nearly 2,000 fans per match and ranks third in the nation in attendance.

Expectations soar for the Fighting Illini, who return four senior starters, including All-America middle blocker Laura Bush and All-Big Ten selections Petra Laverman and Barb Winsett.

The four seniors join the nation's top recruiting class as the Fighting Illini move into Huff Gymnasium. Illinois, ranked No. 7 in the preseason by AVCA, wins just six of its first 10 matches, losing to Stanford, Nebraska and Pacific, despite holding a 2-0 lead in each match.

Illinois wins three of its final four matches to advance to its sixth consecutive NCAA tournament. The Fighting Illini lose, 3-0, in NCAA first-round action at Big Ten Champion Wisconsin in front of a then all-time NCAA record crowd of 10,935. Illinois ends the season 21-12, 11-7 in the Big Ten, good for fourth place. The Illini play on television a record nine times.

Freshman middle blocker Kristin Henriksen earns Big Ten Freshman of the Year honors, winning the league hitting title at .379. Laverman earns First-Team All-Big Ten honors and Third-Team All-America honors.

In April, Illinois lands the nation's top recruiting class for the second year in a row, according to Volleyball Monthly.

The youngest squad in Illinois history jumps out to a quick 10-3 start, 6-0 in the Big Ten before winding up 19-10 (14-6 Big Ten) and in fourth place in the Big Ten. The Illini sell out Huff Hall for the first time, packing 4,050 fans in to see Ohio State.

Junior outside hitter Lorna Henderson earns First-Team All-Big Ten and Honorable Mention All-America honors after hitting .263 with 398 kills. She also earns Big Ten Player of the Week honors in successive weeks.

Freshman middle blocker Sue Nucci hits a team-high .322 and earns Big Ten Player of the Week honors.

The Illini advance to their seventh consecutive NCAA tournament, losing 3-0, at Nebraska in the first round.

The Illini set records for single-season attendance and average attendance, drawing 31,391 fans in 14 home dates for an average of 2,242, good for sixth in the nation.

Illinois wins its fourth Big Ten championship (a co-championship with Penn State) with a 32-4 overall record, 19-1 in league play.

The Illini rank among the top 5 in the nation all season, winning the Illini Classic and placing second at the Wahine Invitational and Reebok Challenge.

Illinois wins five consecutive matches against ranked teams in September and strings together a 22-match winning streak late in the season, including 18 in a row in Big Ten play.

The Fighting Illini qualify for their eighth-consecutive NCAA tournament. Along the way, the Fighting Illini set an NCAA record for season attendance, leading the nation with 52,666 fans pouring into Huff Hall, an average of nearly 3,100 fans per match.

Illinois loses to eventual NCAA Champion Stanford in the NCAA Midwest Regional final in front of a Huff Hall-record 4,316 fans.

Illini outside hitter Kirsten Gleis earns first-team All-America honors, outside hitter Tina Rogers is named a Second-Team All-American and middle blocker Kristin Henriksen finishes second in the national hitting race with a .433 attack percentage. Illinois wins the NCAA hitting title with a .328 team percentage.

1993

Illinois opens the season ranked fourth in the nation and faces five top-20 teams to begin the season. After dropping all five matches, the Illini go on a nine-match win streak, including a 6-0 start in the Big Ten.

After splitting the final six Big Ten matches of the season, Illinois qualifies for its ninth consecutive NCAA tournament, beating host Southwest Missouri State, 3-0, in the first round as senior outside hitter Tina Rogers hammers a school-record 32 kills. The Illini end the season 18-13, 14-6 in the Big Ten.

Senior middle blocker Kristin Henriksen wins her third Big Ten hitting title, earning First-Team All-Big Ten honors along with Rogers, the UI leader in kills, aces and digs.

Illinois wins the NCAA attendance title for the second consecutive year, drawing 34,539 fans into Huff Hall for 13 home dates.

Illinois goes 23-14 overall, 12-8 in the Big Ten to finish fourth and qualifies for its 10th consecutive NCAA tournament appearance.

Illinois won its third Big Ten title and advanced to its second-consecutive Final Four in 1988.

ILLINI VOLLEYBALL HISTORY

Freshman Erin Borske sets a school record with nine 20-kill matches, combining with senior Julie Edwards for 978 kills and 705 digs. Borske becomes the third UI player to earn Big Ten Freshman of the Year honors. Edwards earns All-Big Ten and Second-Team All-Mideast Region honors after becoming just the second Fighting Illini player in school history with 500+ kills in a season.

Edwards leads the Illini with 500 kills, hitting .287 and earning MVP honors. Edwards pounds 30 kills in a victory over William & Mary and is named Big Ten Player of the Week. Sophomore Melissa Neal is named the Sandy Scholtens Award winner.

It is a season of streaks as the Illini lose their first four matches to ranked teams, then rattle off 14 wins in their next 15 matches. The Illini then endure another four-match losing streak before winning eight of their next nine. The Illini lose four of their last five matches, including an NCAA first-round loss to visiting Ball State.

Illinois draws 29,106 fans in 15 home dates, an average of 2,715 fans per match, to finish fifth in national attendance.

Mike Hebert enters his 13th, and what would turn out to be his final, year as head coach with one of the youngest and most unknown squads in Illini volleyball history. With only one senior on the roster, Illinois surprises many as it jumps out to a 9-0 start, the best for the Illini since 1985.

The Illini then lose four of their next five matches, including close 3-2 matches against Penn State and Purdue, before rebounding to win its next seven matches. The streak wouldn't last, though, as the Illini drop their next three road matches. After losing its home finale to Wisconsin, Illinois sees its NCAA tournament hopes slipping with two of its toughest road contests left against Ohio State and Penn State. But the Illini pull off two brilliant upsets, beating No. 10 Penn State, 3-2, and taking care of No. 7 Ohio State, 3-1. It was only the second time in conference history that a team had defeated those two schools in their venues on successive days.

Illinois' late-season heroics pay off as it receives a first-round bye in the NCAA tournament and faces Georgia in a second-round match at Huff Hall for the team's 11th straight NCAA appearance. With a 3-1 defeat of Georgia, Illinois travels to Gainesville, Fla., to face No. 6 Texas in the Mideast Regional Semifinal, losing to the Longhorns, 3-0.

The 1995 season belongs to sophomore Erin Borske who earns First-Team AVCA All-America and All-Big Ten honors. Borske sets Big Ten and Illinois records for most kills in a match (44 vs. Penn State, Sept. 23) and in a season (714). She has two 40-kill matches and a school-record nineteen 20-kill matches. Junior Carolien Dikhoff sets a Big Ten and Illinois record for most assists in a season (1,770).

The Illini finish fourth in the national attendance race, drawing 32,856 fans into Huff Hall.

Don Hardin returns to Illinois as head coach and takes over a young Illinois team which is trying to cope with the loss of All-Big Ten hitter Erin Borske and starting setter Carolien Dikhoff. The Fighting Illini remain competitive during the season despite having to rely greatly on eight underclassmen.

The Fighting Illini finish the non-conference schedule with a record of 5-3. The team wins its second straight Illini Classic title by defeating Southern Mississippi and Connecticut in the annual tourney. Mary Coleman is named the Classic's MVP.

The most emotional weekend of the non-conference slate occurs a week prior to the Illini Classic, Sept. 13-14, when the team travels to the Louisville Invitational to face Hardin's previous team, the 15th-ranked Cardinals. Despite the fact that setter Melissa Beitz has to sit out the tourney with mononucleosis, Illinois upsets Louisville on its own court in a dramatic 3-0 sweep.

During the Big Ten season, Illinois remains competitive but is unable to pull out a win versus the upper division teams in the league. The Illini finish 8-12 in the conference and places seventh.

Overall, Illinois ends the season with a record of 13-15. Senior captain Kelly Scherr is named First-Team All-Big Ten and the team's MVP. Illinois averages 2,414 fans at each home game, which ranks as the fifth-best average in the nation.

After suffering the school's first losing season in 13 years in 1996, the 1997 Illini hope to show that better times are ahead for the UI program. The team rebounds to post a 17-13 record and returns to the national rankings twice during the season.

Illinois still has a young team, with only one senior, defensive specialist Heidi Coulter. Led by a group of five juniors and four sophomores, the Illini win their first eight matches of the season and end the nonconference slate with a record of 9-1. The highlights of the non-conference slate include tournament wins at the University of Virginia's Jefferson Cup and the Illini/Pepsi Classic. Illinois also upends No. 21 Arkansas, 3-0, at Huff Hall on Sept. 19.

The team has a tough time getting on track during the Big Ten season. After starting the conference schedule with three straight road losses against ranked opponents, Illinois could never pull to the .500 mark in the league. Despite finishing with an 8-12 Big Ten record and finishing seventh in the league, Illinois ends the season on a strong note. The Illini win their last three matches of the season, all by 3-0 scores.

Illinois continues to draw well at the gate. UI averages 1,962 fans per game, which ranks 10th in the nation.

Following the season, Illinois assistant coach Tarnisha Thompson retires and is replaced by Denise Baez. The entire squad travels to The Netherlands over the summer and competes in several tournaments in late May and early June.

Illinois begins the season with a tough non-conference schedule, playing several returning NCAA Tournament teams, including Ball State, Southeast Missouri State, Oral Roberts, Illinois State, Texas, Penn State, Arkansas and Kansas State and goes 7-3 in pre-conference play.

The Fighting Illini move into the national rankings the week of Sept. 18 after knocking off seventh-ranked Texas at The Chicago Challenge at Mother McAuley High School. Illinois pulls off a dramatic, 3-2 victory to a gain a No. 22 ranking, and remains in the top 25 for the rest of the season.

Illinois begins Big Ten play by sweeping Michigan and No. 18 Michigan State on the road. UI also defeats No. 24 Indiana and Minnesota during the first half of the conference season to end with a terrific 8-2 league mark. One of the losses comes in a thrilling 3-2 defeat at the hands of top-ranked Penn State at Huff Hall. The two sets are the first that PSU drops all season, and the Illini sends the match to five after dropping the first two sets of the match.

Illinois finishes the Big Ten season with consecutive wins over Iowa, Purdue and Minnesota. The Illini finish fourth in the conference with a 13-7 Big Ten mark, enough to propel Illinois into the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1995. UI hosts a sub-regional at Huff Hall and defeats Southwest Texas State and No. 17 Colorado to move on to the Sweet 16. Illinois faces No. 1 Long Beach State in the Mountain Regional Semifinals and falls to the eventual national champions, 3-0, to end the season.

In all, the Illini spikers have one of the best finishes on campus in 1998. The team goes 22-11 with what was judged to be the nation's toughest schedule. Illinois finishes 14th in the final national rankings. Several Illini are accorded postseason honors. Chapman is named Honorable Mention All-America, junior setter Melissa Beitz is named AVCA All-District V and is an Academic All-Region pick. Chapman and Marshall are named First-Team All-Big Ten while Beitz and sophomore Betsy Spicer are named Honorable Mention All-Big Ten.

The Illini enter the season ranked 14th in the nation, and play a tough non-conference schedule, which includes matchups with UC-Santa Barbara, North Carolina, Illinois State, George Mason, Georgia, and Louisville. Illinois goes 4-2 in non-conference play, with its fifth straight State Farm Illini Classic title courtesy of a 3-0 victory over Georgia in the championship match. To help prepare for the rigors of the Big Ten, the Illini also play a pair of exhibition matches against top-flight competition, facing the U.S. Pro Volleyball League team and the Dresdner Sports Club of Germany.

No. 25 Illinois carries a four-match winning streak into its conference opener against Indiana. A three-game sweep of the Hoosiers, followed by a 3-2 victory over Northwestern improves the streak to six straight wins.

After a road loss to top-ranked Penn State, the Illini quickly bounce back with their best stretch of the Big Ten season. Illinois reels off five-straight wins to improve to 7-1 in the conference and move as high as 20th in the national rankings. Included in that streak are victories at two of the league's most difficult places to play, Ohio State and Minnesota. The Illini defeat the Buckeyes in five sets and knock off the 22nd-ranked Gophers in four. Illinois also garners its first win in four seasons over Wisconsin, when the Orange and Blue upends the 18th-ranked Badgers in straight sets.

Betsy Spicer, a 2000 All-Big Ten performer, helped the Illini to the 1998 Sweet 16.

A tough stretch follows, where Illinois drops five of its next six matches. But the final loss, a spirited and competitive four-set loss to Penn State, is just what the Illini need to regain their rhythm. Illinois had the No. 1 Nittany Lions on their heels time after time, pushed by the crowd of over 3,000 fans that packed Huff Hall for the match.

The Illini close out the Big Ten winning four of their final six matches, highlighted by a pair of thrilling 3-2 road victories at Indiana and Michigan State. Illinois finishes 12-8 in conference play, securing its second-straight fourth place finish.

The Illini receive an invitation to the NCAA Tournament and are sent to Gainesville, Fla. UI wins its first round contest against Wisconsin-Milwaukee in four games to set up a showdown with No. 4 Florida. Illinois fights the Gators point-for-point the entire match but falls in five sets to end the season.

In the end, Illinois finishes with a 17-11 record and ranks 26th in the country. Middle blocker Betsy Spicer receives First Team All-Big Ten honors, as well as First Team All-District 2 honors by the AVCA. Setter Melissa Beitz breaks UI's all-time career assists record, finishing with 5,797, and outside hitter Tracey Marshall becomes the school's all-time career digs leader, totaling 1,426 over four years.

The year 2000 begins with high expectations for the Fighting Illini volleyball program. Illinois enters the season ranked 29th in the nation in the AVCA preseason poll. However, after a successful nonconference season, a rash of injuries hits the squad and Head Coach Don Hardin is left juggling the lineup from match to match. Five-set matches become the norm as the young Illini fight through the ultra-competitive Big Ten slate.

The Illini compile an impressive 9-2 record in non-conference matches. Betsy Spicer earns two Big Ten Player of the Week honors, and the Illini win their sixth straight Illini Classic tournament championship, fighting back from an 0-2 deficit to defeat Ball State in the title match.

After losing three starters due to injury, the Illini go 4-16 in Big Ten play. All four of Illinois' victories in the conference - Purdue, Northwestern, Michigan State and Iowa - last five sets. Overall, 11 of Illinois' 31 matches on the season go to the fifth and deciding set, with the Illini posting an impressive record of 7-4 in five-set matches.

Senior Betsy Spicer accumulates a number of post-season awards and honors, including the Big Ten title in attack percentage, hitting .398 on the year. She is a unanimous selection to the All-Big Ten team, while also garnering All-Region and Honorable-Mention All-American honors. Spicer is also named Illinois' female Big Ten Medal of Honor recipient.

The 2001 season gets off to a promising start as the Illini cruise through the non-conference schedule with a 7-1 record. After winning the first six matches of the season in impressive fashion, the Illini are dealt their first loss of the year by No. 11 Florida.

Following tough road losses at No. 15 Ohio State and No. 6 Penn State and wins over Northwestern and Iowa, Illinois travels to Minneapolis, Minn., to take on No. 21 Minnesota. After dropping the first-two sets to the Gophers, the Illini rally to take the next two and but narrowly drop the match with a 15-13 loss in the fifth.

Following the five-set heartbreaker, the Illini reel off seven straight victories and win 11 of their next 13 matches to work their way near the top of the conference. Included in that seven-match stretch are six wins over Big Ten foes that help elevate the Illini from eighth in the Big Ten standings up to third and is the longest winning streak for the Illini since 1997.

Following a loss at eventual Big Ten champion Wisconsin, Illinois regains its winning ways by taking five of its final seven conference matches, including a dramatic come-from-behind win over No. 13 Penn State, its first victory over the Nittany Lions since 1995. The Illini wraps up the regular season tied for fourth in the Big Ten with a 13-7 record.

For their efforts, Head Coach Don Hardin is selected as Big Ten Coach of the Year and senior Shadia Haddad is named the Big Ten's Defensive Player of the Year. Haddad and sophomore Lisa Argabright are named to the All-Big Ten Team while Argabright also earns All-Region honors.

Illinois defeats Missouri, 3-1, at Huff in the first round of the NCAA Tournament, before Illinois' remarkable season comes to an end in round two at the hands of No. 4 Arizona.

The Illini end the 2001 season with a record of 21-9 and rank No. 20 in the nation in the final AVCA/USA Today Coaches' Poll.

Illinois opens the 2002 season with a 6-3 pre-conference record, including capturing its 13th State Farm Illini Classic title with 3-0 victories over Arkansas State and Connecticut. The title match is a memorable one as Don Hardin collects his 300th career victory.

Illinois opens Big Ten play with a four-match homestand at Huff Hall. Things do not start out as planned, however, as the Illini fall in five sets to in-state rival Northwestern. But the Illini rebound quickly, wiping away the disappointment the next night with an impressive victory over the 13th-ranked and two-time defending Big Ten champion Wisconsin Badgers. The Illini then defeat Purdue in four sets before losing to No. 9 Penn State.

Illinois' first road trip of the conference slate begins with a 3-1 loss at Iowa. But just as the team rebounded two weeks earlier after a Friday loss, the Illini surge back with their best performance of the season one night later in winning at No. 6 Minnesota. Illinois fights back from behind to win in a five-set thriller and hand the Gophers their first loss in conference play. The win marks the highest-ranked opponent that the Illini had defeated in Don Hardin's tenure as UI coach.

Adversity followed, however, as the Illini drop a pair of heartbreaking five-set matches to Indiana and Ohio State. After losses at Michigan and Michigan State, it becomes evident that starter Lisa Argabright is not herself. She is diagnosed with mononucleosis and the Illini are forced to play the next six matches without their top offensive option and best blocker.

Illinois goes 4-10 in the second half of the season, to finish 13-16 overall and 7-13 in Big Ten play. The Illini end the year on a high note, closing the season with a 3-1 victory at Indiana.

2003

Illinois completes its best season since 1992, qualifying for its ninth Sweet 16 and 15th NCAA Tournament.

Middle blocker Lisa Argabright earns Third-Team All-America honors, while setter Erin Virtue is an honorable mention selection.

The Illini roll to two tournament titles, including claiming their 14th State Farm Illini Classic victory by sweeping Wake Forest in three games.

Illinois plays the first two weekends of the conference race on the road, then opens the home schedule in dramatic fashion with a dominating win over No. 11 Penn State. That begins a string of 12 victories in 14 matches, giving Illinois a chance at the Big Ten title heading into the final weekend of the season. The highlight of that stretch is a come-from-behind victory over No. 20 Minnesota on Nov. 7. Minnesota has three match points in set four, before a Jessica Belter kill closes out the set 34-32. Illinois wins game five, 15-13. Outside hitter Rachel VanMeter, who paced the way with 25 kills, exploded for the kill on match point.

Belter gives the Illini a tremendous individual performance the weekend of Oct. 17-18, hitting .737 with 16 kills vs. Michigan State and registering 12 kills and 11 digs, hitting .417 and recording eight blocks vs. Michigan. This earns Belter AVCA National Player of the Week honors.

Illinois spends three weeks of the regular season in the Top 25, reaching 18th in the last week of the season. The respect for Illinois leads to a No. 15 national seed in the NCAA Tournament and the ability to host the First and Second Rounds at Huff. The Illini sweep through matches with Murray State and Louisville, giving Illinois a shot at playing at No. 2 Hawaii in the Regional Semifinal. The hosts win 3-0, but Illinois is competitive in falling 33-31 in game three. Illinois finishes the season ranked No. 15 in the nation and No. 14 in attendance (1,598).

Illinois is one of the top stories of the first half of the volleyball season, when the Illini halt top-ranked USC's NCAA record 52-match winning streak with a 30-24, 24-30, 12-30, 30-27, 15-8 victory in front of over 3,000 fans at Huff Hall in the title match of the State Farm Illini Classic. After that week, Illinois reaches the top 10 for the first time since 1993, chiming in at No. 9.

The season has its ups and downs. On the positive side, the Illini were "streak busters." In addition to the USC victory, Illinois knocks off Ohio State, who entered the Oct. 23 match at Huff 19-0 as the lone unbeaten team in Division I. Then, on Nov. 6, the Illini sweep Wisconsin, who was the hottest team in the Big Ten at the time with an eight-match win streak.

Attendance is a story again. Illinois draws 22,890 fans to Huff Hall, an average of 1,761 per match, ranking 10th nationally.

Don Hardin posts career victory No. 350 in the 30-27, 30-20, 32-30 win over Wisconsin. Senior Jessica Belter earns Big Ten Player of the Week after dominating performances vs. Michigan and Michigan State for the second straight year. For the week, Belter has 43 kills and hits a combined .567.

Two Illini are named All-Big Ten, Belter (first team) and junior hitter Rachel VanMeter (honorable mention), while middle blocker Jen Hynds garners All-Big Ten Freshman Team accolades. Belter is named Honorable Mention All-America.

Despite some key wins, injuries to Jen Hynds, who misses eight games in mid-September, and to setter

Erin Virtue, an Honorable Mention All-American in 2003 and Pre-Season All-Big Ten honoree in 2004, hinder the Illini's performance. Virtue's season-ending knee injury on Sept. 17 transfers the setting duties to freshman Stephanie Obermeier.

The Illini qualify for its 16th NCAA Tournament, but are knocked out by Louisville in the first round.

Despite suffering through another injury- and illness-riddled season, the Illini manage to complete their 19th winning season in 22 years at 16-15. Illinois finishes strong, winning three of its final four matches.

Senior Rachel VanMeter, one of five players chosen All-Big Ten unanimously, has a record-setting season, breaking the Illini record for attacks in a match (99), season (1,786) and career (4,462). VanMeter also ranks fourth in the nation in kills per game (5.79).

VanMeter's success starts from the opening match of the year, when she sets a Redbird Arena record with 39 kills in a five-set victory over Illinois State, earning her Big Ten Player of the Week honors. VanMeter is named MVP as the Illini win the Northern Illinois Tournament.

Illinois has two big victories over top-25 teams, but none bigger than a five-set win at No. 16 Ohio State. The Illini trailed two games to none and 22-20 in set three before rebounding for the win. In the final month of the Big Ten season, Illinois downs No. 18 Purdue, 3-2. VanMeter earns Big Ten Player of the Week honors for her 39 kills while junior libero Beth Vrdsly tallies 31 digs to become Illinois' first Big Ten Defensive Player of the Week. Vrdsky sets the Illinois single-season digs record with 520 for the year.

The season begins in exciting fashion with a 3-1 victory over Illinois State in front of the largest home crowd in over a decade. The first-annual "Stuff Huff" promotion drew 3,129 fans August.

The Illini post a 9-1 mark in pre-conference matches, but struggle in Big Ten play, going 6-14 in the conference and 15-15 on the year.

Junior middle blocker Vicki Brown, an Honorable Mention All-Big Ten selection, is the story of the non-conference season, earning MVP honors of the State Farm Illini Classic and the Marquette Kick-Off Tournament. Brown belts 45 kills and hits .413 in the Illini Classic, hitting for a .625 clip in a 3-0 victory over UW-Milwaukee.

Freshman Ashley Edinger steps into the libero spot, posting 488 digs, second all-time in Illinois history. Kylie McCulley, playing for the injured Kayani Turner, is impressive in her debut as a starter, tallying 19 kills in a competitive match with No. 2 Penn State. Illinois has a pair of set points in sets one and three before falling 34-32, 30-23, 32-30.

Lizzie Bazzetta ranks sixth in the nation in assists per game at 13.54. Edinger and Bazzetta earn Big Ten Defensive Player of the Week honors throughout the season, both coming after matches with Northwestern and Iowa.

Paced by 19 kills and a .459 attack percentage from an ailing Turner, Illinois downs No. 16 Ohio State, 3-0. Senior Meghan Macdonald breaks the Illinois single-set attack percentage record by hitting a perfect 1.000 with 12 kills in a 3-1 win over Indiana on Senior Weekend.

Illinois posts its 20th winning season in 24 years. The Illini defeat a ranked team for the seventh straight season and take eventual national champion Penn State to five sets, all the while breaking in a new, yet talented, freshman class.

Still, the 2007 season will be remembered for how close the Illini came to placing in the top three in the Big Ten and returning to the NCAA Tournament. Illinois finishes the season 16-14 with nine of the those losses coming in five sets and another in four to No. 9 Wisconsin after the Illini took the opening set 41-39, a record for the longest set in school history.

Laura DeBruler's performance headlines a strong start from the nation's sixth-ranked recruiting class. DeBruler leads all freshmen nationally (22nd overall) in kills per game at 4.89.

No player, not even national Player of the Year Mary Eggers, had even double figures in kills in an Illinois debut. DeBruler, however, explodes for 28 in a four-set win over Bowling Green in the season opener. She is named Big Ten Player of the Week twice.

Vicki Brown eclipses the 1,000-kill mark for her career. Sophomore Ashley Edinger sets the single-season digs mark with 564.

The roller coaster season ends on a high as head coach Don Hardin wins his 400th match in a three-set win over Iowa. Earlier in the year, Hardin wins his 200th at Illinois.

2008

The Illini show marked improvement in 2008, going 26-8 and finishing third in the Big Ten with a 15-5 record, while ending the season with a return to NCAA Regionals.

Illinois goes 9-2 in pre-conference play, highlighted by an early win over No. 11 Oregon. After the Ducks dominate the first two sets, 25-14 and 25-16, in the championship match of the State Farm Illini Classic, fans get a glimpse of just how good Laura DeBruler can be. The somewhat undersized sophomore comes up big with 22 kills in the final three sets, as Illinois rallies from a 19-14 deficit in the fourth set and takes set five, 15-13, in dramatic fashion.

DeBruler is named National Player of the Week for her efforts and also earns the first of three Big Ten Player of the Week honors on the season.

All year, Illinois plays a style that keeps rallies going and forces the opponent to make the mistake on the point. Thanks to a lot of hard work by returnees and the emergence of freshman Michelle Bartsch, the Illini becomes a force on the block. Bartsch has 134 blocks, which ranks 10th in the Big Ten, en route to Big Ten and Midwest Region Freshman of the Year accolades.

Middle blocker Johannah Bangert, a two-time Big Ten Player of the Week, is at the heart of the blocking success, leading not only the conference, but also the nation with 1.60 blocks per set. With the fans counting down each dig, Ashley Edinger sets the Illinois career digs record on Nov. 1 against Ohio State, finishing her junior year with 1,614.

The Illini win 16 of the final 19, following a hiccup against Northwestern. Ten of those 16 wins come in three sets, as Illinois makes its case for a national seed and home court advantage for the NCAA Tournament.

Tabbing the No. 9 national seed and hosting first and second round matches for the third time this decade, Illinois defeats UW-Milwaukee and Cincinnati on its home court in the first two rounds to punch a ticket to the school's first Sweet 16 appearance since 2003. Hardin announces his retirement from coaching in the week leading up to the tournament and fans come out not only to push the Illini past the first two rounds, but also to express appreciation for all Hardin has meant to the Illini in his career.

Although California downs Illinois in three sets in the Sweet 16, all three sets come down to the wire, with the Bears winning 25-22 each time. DeBruler is named All-Regional Tournament and later becomes Illinois' first All-American in four seasons.

Kevin Hamby takes over as the seventh head coach in program history. Illinois continues its success in 2009, posting the fifth-best winning percentage in school history at 26-6. The Illini finish in sole possession of second place in the Big Ten, recording a 16-4 conference mark, and reach the Sweet 16 for the second year in a row and 11th time overall.

Illinois emerges as a top-five team in the country, earning the No. 5 seed for the NCAA Tournament while spending eight straight weeks in the top 10 in the AVCA coaches' poll. Illinois finishes the year at No. 10.

The Illini posts five victories over ranked opponents and twice defeats the No. 6 ranked team in the country, a five-set thriller at Michigan and a three-set sweep of Minnesota, a Final Four team, at State Farm Center.

The Minnesota victory comes in front of a school-record 7,632 fans in a promotion called "Spike the Record" which precedes Illini Basketball Madness.

Junior Laura DeBruler becomes just the fourth First Team All-American in school history, following her second-team honor in 2008. DeBruler ranks 15th in the nation in kills and 14th nationally in points (4.96).

Illinois again has success through the block. Junior Johannab Bangert leads the nation in blocks for the second straight year at 1.58 per set. Her 179 total blocks are third-best in school history. Sophomore Michelle Bartsch (128) and freshman middle blocker Erin Johnson (104) also surpass 100 blocks in the season as the Illini rank 18th nationally.

Illinois has three All-Big Ten performers for the first time since 1989 in DeBruler, Bangert and junior setter Hillary Haen, who ranks 16th nationally in assists. Bartsch garners an All-Big Ten Honorable Mention, while Johnson is named to the Big Ten All-Freshman team.

Illinois goes 14-1 at home, wins the Bluejay Invitational to start the year, and claims its 19th State Farm Illini Classic title. In the middle of the season, the Illini rattle off 11 straight victories, including wins over No. 6 Minnesota and No. 15 Michigan.

During that run, the team loses senior libero Ashley Edinger for the season. Edinger finishes her career with 1,921 digs, the most by an Illini by nearly 500, and ninth most in Big Ten history. Sophomore Rachel Feldman takes over for Edinger and has 19 digs while successfully returning all 41 serves sent her way in her debut vs. Michigan. Feldman has 26 digs vs. Dayton, the most at the time by an Illini in an NCAA match.

Illinois also stands out in the classroom with eight players earning Academic All-Big Ten and three honored as Academic All-District—Bangert, Haen and DeBruler.

Illinois continues to firmly cement itself as a national contender in 2010. The Illini defeat a pair of top-five teams, including eventual national champion Penn State and reaches as high as No. 3 in the national poll.

The season will also be remembered for its share of adversity. Both Laura DeBruler and Erin Johnson miss time recovering from mononucleosis. Highly-touted freshman Anna Dorn suffers an ACL tear during the second week of the season. But the biggest blow comes on Oct. 9 when 2009 First Team All-American DeBruler is lost for the season, also with an ACL tear.

The Illini begin the year as good as any team in the country. On Sept. 3, the Illini sweep No. 2 Texas to end the Longhorns' 25-match home court winning streak. Michelle Bartsch is named the Time Warner Cable Invitational MVP after hitting .514 in leading the Illini to wins over Texas and Florida A&M.

Early the following week, the Illini find out DeBruler has mono, and the senior would miss the following two weekends. Even without DeBruler, the Illini defeat No. 20 Dayton and take the first two sets from No. 7 Nebraska in front of nearly 12,000 fans in Lincoln. In set three, however, Bartsch sprains an ankle and Nebraska comes back to win in five sets. Bartsch returns the following weekend, but unranked Cincinnati also takes down the Illini in five.

The Illini end the weekend with a win over eventual NCAA qualifier Louisville and DeBruler returns the following weekend against three-time defending national champion No. 2 Penn State.

With over 4,100 fans filling Huff for the first sellout in 18 years, the Illini post a thrilling five-set victory over the Nittany Lions, ending their record 65-match Big Ten winning streak on Sept. 24.

Illinois opens Big Ten play at 12-1, holding the top of the standings for the first eight weeks of the season. The Illini's sole loss comes at Michigan, where DeBruler suffers the ACL tear, but the Illini take down the No. 15 Wolverines in their rematch at Huff Hall on Oct. 29. During the stretch, Illinois also defeats No. 20 Minnesota and No. 25 Northwestern.

Sitting at 20-3 at the start of November, Illinois drops five of its last seven conference matches, the most devastating coming in the rematch with Minnesota. The Illini leads two sets to one and 24-20 in the fourth set, but the Gophers score 13 of the next 14 points to take the match in five sets.

Illinois sees the NCAA Tournament as a fresh start. On the heels of six wins over ranked opponents, including two in the top five, Illinois receives the No. 8 national seed and a pair of home matches. The Illini defeat Austin Peay in three sets in round one, then win the rematch with No. 21 Cincinnati in four sets in the second round to advance to their third straight Sweet 16, setting up another rematch -- this time with ninth-seeded Texas in Austin.

Junior Colleen Ward leads the NCAA tournament with 44 kills in the first two matches. Against Texas, it's freshman Jazmine Orozco who leads the way with 21 kills, but the hosts battle back from down 2-1 to eliminate the Illini in five sets.

Three Illini earn All-America honors, Ward on the second team and Bartsch and senior setter Hillary Haen on the third team.

The year sees several milestones. DeBruler becomes Illinois' all-time kills leader, passing Illini legend Mary Eggers at Wisconsin and finishing her injury-shortened career with 1,833.

Johannah Bangert sets a new Illinois record for blocks, finishing with 653 for her career, which is also seventh in Big Ten history. In the final match of the year, Bangert sets an all-time conference mark for block assists with 613, breaking the old mark by one. Bangert also becomes Illinois' first First Team Academic All-American since 1990.

Freshman libero Jennifer Bonilla (later Jennifer Beltran), an Honorable Mention All-Mideast Region selection, sets a new single-season school record for digs with 623. Haen moves into fourth on Illinois' all-time assists list with 3,956, while finishing her career eighth on the single-season assist list with 1,471.

A national ESPN2 audience witnesses perhaps the greatest rally the game has ever seen in match point of the national semifinal between Illinois and USC. The Illini and Women of Troy take turns taking shots at each other. Some 55 touches, 18 over-the-net volleys and 68 seconds of electric play later, the Illini completes a five-set win over the nation's top-ranked team and earns a spot in the national championship match. The point gets a spot on Sportscenter's "Top 10 Plays" that night and continues to have fans talking about it.

The point is the pinnacle of an historic season for Illinois who creeps through a number of barriers.

The Illini begin the year 20-0, the second most wins to start a season in school history. It results in the school's first No. 1 ranking in the AVCA Coaches poll. The wide-open national race is reflected in six different teams reaching the top spot, but none hold it as long as Illinois (four weeks).

For the first time since 1992, Illinois plays two home matches in front of near capacity crowds of 4,000-plus.

ILLINI VOLLEYBALL HISTORY

In Illinois' first weekend at number one, a sellout crowd of 4,261 sees a battle of the last two unbeateans in Illinois and Purdue and the Illini eke out a tight four-set victory over the Boilermakers.

For much of Penn State's 20 years in the Big Ten, the conference championship has gone through Happy Valley, but for the first time ever, Illinois sweeps the season series from the Nittany Lions.

If the battle with USC is the defining match of the postseason, the first meeting with Penn State is that for the 2011 regular season. Over 5,200 fans watch the match which lasts nearly three hours, and, in the end, the visiting Illini come away with an epic five-set victory.

Illinois boasts perhaps the best outside hitting combination in the country in seniors Colleen Ward, who becomes Illinois' fifth First-Team All-American, and Michelle Bartsch, who earns third-team All-America honors for the second-straight year.

In reality, though, several members of the team take turns taking center stage throughout the year. Redshirt freshman Anna Dorn does so against Penn State, with four blocks in each of the fourth and fifth sets, tying an Illinois record with 13 block assists in the match.

Bartsch helps the Illini get off to a hot start to the season, winning MVP of three in-season tournaments, including the State Farm Illini Classic, which sees the Illini battle back from two sets down to defeat 21st-ranked Dayton, one of six five-set victories in the 20-0 start.

Illinois has the top-ranked RPI the entire season, thanks in large to part to a challenging schedule. Illinois wins a school-record 11 matches against ranked opponents, playing 15 matches against top-25 clubs as well as 27 matches against 19 NCAA qualifying teams.

Bartsch and fellow senior Rachel Feldman help the Illini post a 57-6 record at Huff Hall in their four years, including a 16-1 mark in 2011, which sees 42,068 come through the doors at the historic arena, the second most in school history.

Illinois earns the No. 3 seed for the NCAA Tournament and starts its run to the Final Four with convincing straight set wins over Central Michigan and Marquette at Huff, bringing the Illini's all-time postseason home record to 22-3.

For the second-straight year, six Big Ten teams make the Sweet 16 and three of them converge at the Gainesville, Fla., Regional. The Illini meet Ohio State in the Regional Semifinal, a round that had been a roadblock for Illinois each of the past three seasons. After dropping the first set, Illinois wins a fierce battle with the Buckeyes.

Jennifer Beltran, whose 571 digs in 2011 are second in Illini history only to her 623 output from 2010, has perhaps her best effort as a collegian with 26 digs vs. the Buckeyes. Beltran later sets a new Illinois postseason mark with 32 in the national semifinal win over USC.

Illinois would not be denied in its quest for its first Final Four appearance in 23 years. Facing the host Florida Gators in the Regional Final, the Illini post a four-set win behind a career match from Ward. The former Gator has 23 kills in 42 swings, hitting .500 in earning the Regional MVP. Bartsch and Beltran join Ward on the All-Regional Tournament team.

While the Final Four meeting with USC may best be remembered nationally for the final point, the match has some of the best volleyball on display the entire night. Freshman Liz McMahon, whose 6-6 frame on the right side helped provide a huge blocking presence all year, has five kills on eight swings in the fifth set alone to help the Orange and Blue advance to the title match.

For just the second time in school history, two different players contribute 20-20 performances against USC. Ward paves the way with 27 kills in 71 swings, the second-most by an Illini player in a postseason match. She adds a career-best 22 digs while Bartsch has 22 kills and 22 digs.

Junior setter Annie Luhrsen helps engineer a high-powered Illinois offense down the stretch of the season and joins Ward and Bartsch on the all-tournament team for the NCAA Finals. Under Luhrsen's guidance, Illinois hits over .300 in seven of the 10 matches leading up to the Final Four, including .340 in a three-set win over Penn State and a .338 clip in the Regional Final win over Florida.

The championship match is nearly as riveting as the semifinals, as the Illini come back from down 20-13 in the second set to tie the match, 1-1. The Illini have two set points in the third, but UCLA scores the final four points of the set and goes on to claim the NCAA title in four sets.

The loss doesn't overshadow the list of accomplishments for Illinois, who finishes a school-best second in the final coaches' poll. The Big Ten honors Bartsch and Ward as all-conference, and McMahon on the Big Ten All-Freshman Team. Erin Johnson, who leads the Illini in attack percentage (.328), joins Luhrsen and Dorn in earning Big Ten Defensive Player of the Week throughout the year.

Several players reach milestones. Beltran surpasses the 1,000-dig mark and sits fifth on the all-time career digs list with 1,194 through two seasons. Bartsch ends her career fourth in block assists (422), seventh in kills (1,644), 10th in digs (1,035) and second in attacks (4,776) on the school's career lists. Dorn (178) and Johnson (149) are third and sixth, respectively, in single-season block assists.

The Illini have a tough challenge in 2012, as a young team sets out to follow the most successful season in program history. Faced with the task of replacing All-American outside hitters Michelle Bartsch and Colleen Ward, redshirt freshmen Jocelynn Birks and Ali Stark step up in the front row. Birks accepts the challenge, and bursts onto the scene in the season opener, registering the second-most kills in an Illini debut with 16 at Dayton.

Jennifer Beltran became the first Illini to 2,000 career digs, finishing second in Big Ten history.

On Aug. 31, the Illini host Iowa State in the first night of a two-match series. 3,770 Illini fans "Stuff Huff" to represent the largest opening night crowd in program history, as the packed house witnesses the NCAA Runner-Up banner-raising ceremony and a 3-0 sweep of the No. 15 Cyclones.

Birks solidifies her role in the final pre-conference tournament, as she leads the Time Warner Cable Texas Invitational with 60 kills in three matches en route to earning MVP honors. Sophomore middle Anna Dorn leads the invite with a .622 hitting percentage and she and fellow-middle Erin Johnson each stuff 18 blocks to earn all-tournament honors. After opening the year 3-4, the Illini seem to have put it all together in Austin, as the Orange and Blue take down No. 6 Texas, 3-2, then defeat UCF and Cincinnati to claim the tournament title. Following the loss, Texas would go on to win 17-straight regular-season matches and win the 2012 NCAA Championship.

The Illini open Big Ten play with a tough loss to No. 12 Minnesota, but bounce back to win the next two matches over Wisconsin and Indiana. However, a difficult five-set loss at Purdue begins a four-match skid, as the Illini drop eight of the next 10 matches and drop out of the rankings for the first time since 2008.

Six days after falling in five to Purdue, Illini gives up a 2-0 lead to lose, 3-2, to No. 19 Ohio State at home. The heartbreak continues the following night, as Illinois leads 14-10 in the fifth set over No. 1 Penn State but squanders four-straight match points and drops the set 18-16.

Heartbreaking would continue to describe the Illini's 2012 season, as Michigan State battles back from down 0-2 on Nov. 16 to top the Illini at home, ensuring the Illini's first losing season in 10 years and render the Orange and Blue ineligible for postseason play.

With the NCAA Tournament off the table, the disappointed Illini are determined to finish the year on a high note. Illinois closes the home slate with a 3-1 victory over Michigan—who would not lose another match until the Final Four—behind Jessica Jendryk's first career start on her Senior Day. Outsides McMahon and Birks combine for 58 kills in a five-set victory at Northwestern, in which McMahon tallies the first 30-kill performance in four years, and Illinois sweeps the Hawkeyes in Iowa City to end the year on a 3-0 run.

Putting on a show to the end, Birks earns three Big Ten Freshman of the Week honors in the month of November, setting a new Illinois record with four freshman and five total weekly conference honors.

Even though Illinois turns in a 14-16 record and places eighth in the Big Ten with an 8-12 performance, the Illini faithful come out in droves to see the Orange and Blue play, averaging the second-most fans in program history at 2,809 per match, ranking ninth in the nation.

Birks finishes the season 10th all-time with 510 kills and sixth with 1,458 attacks, while placing in the top five nationally among freshmen in both categories. Dorn's .383 hitting percentage ranks ninth all-time. Beltran moves into second with 1,694 career digs, Johnson finishes third in career block assists (445) and Luhrsen places eighth with 2,806 career assists.

Following the season, McMahon is honored with All-Big Ten, while Birks earns an all-conference honorable mention and a spot on the Big Ten All-Freshman team.

Illinois rebounds in 2013, returning to the NCAA Sweet 16 for the 15th time in program history and hosting the Regional for the first time at State Farm Center.

The Illini Faithful comes out in droves to catch the Orange and Blue, as Illinois breaks its all-time record, set in 1992, by averaging 3,117 fans per match (ninth in the nation), with the help of a crowd of 7,061 at Illinois' 3-0 sweep of Iowa in the Big Ten opener at State Farm Center.

Illinois finishes fourth in the Big Ten, which establishes itself as the strongest conference in the nation with an NCAA-record seven teams advancing to NCAA Regionals and conference member Penn State defeating fellow-Big Ten foe Wisconsin in the National Championship. The Orange and Blue also faces one of the most difficult nonconference slates in NCAA history, as all nine opponents are listed in the AVCA poll the week of competition, including hosting top-10 teams Washington and Texas, who both advance to the Final Four.

In total, Illinois plays 22 matches against ranked opponents, shattering the previous record of 15 and marking the most in the NCAA since Stanford faced 23 in 1996, the only program ever to take on more than 22 in a single season.

Illinois opens the year by claiming the Long Beach State Mizuno Invitational title behind the debut of redshirt freshman middle blocker Maddie Mayers, who would win her first of two Big Ten Freshman of the Week honors after leading Illinois to victories over No. 18 Florida State and No. 17 Kentucky. Illinois picks up a win over No. 11 Iowa State, then hands Kevin Hambly his 100th victory with a nail-biter over Arizona State in five. The Illini struggle at the close of nonconference play, dropping the final four matches, all to teams in the AVCA poll, to enter a daunting Big Ten slate at 4-6.

The Orange and Blue splits each of the first six weekends of Big Ten play, but to be eligible for a postseason berth, the Illini would need to win at least five of their final eight matches. Illinois steps up to the challenge, rattling off a six-match winning streak, including a comeback over No. 17 Michigan after falling behind 0-2 and a 3-0 sweep of No. 18 Purdue, finishing the year on a 7-2 run to punch a ticket back to the postseason.

The NCAA committee rewards the Illini for their difficult slate by awarding them the No. 13 seed and the opportunity to host every match until the Final Four, should they advance that far. Illinois sweeps Morehead State, then tops No. 22 Marquette at Huff Hall, to reach its 15th NCAA Regional.

Despite falling in three to the Illini less than a month earlier, Purdue rebounds to top Illinois, 3-0, at State Farm Center to halt the Illini at the Sweet 16 once again.

On Oct. 12, libero Jennifer Beltran becomes Illinois' all-time career digs leader, finishing her career ranked second in Big Ten history with 2,220 digs. She earns All-Region honors along with All-America Honorable Mention.

Birks posts her second-straight 500-kill season and is named unanimous All-Big Ten, All-Region and Third Team All-America, while Liz McMahon earns honorable mentions for All-Region and All-Big Ten.

YEAR-BY-YEAR RESULTS

KATHLEEN HAYWOOD

1 YEAR // 19-9 (.679)

Kathleen Haywood was named Illinois' first head varsity women's volleyball coach, July 7, 1974, the first year the University recognized women's athletics as a part of the Athletic Association. A graduate of Washington University in St. Louis, Haywood served as an assistant coach for the team in 1973 prior to accepting the head spot. During her first, and only year, as head coach, Haywood guided the Illini to a record of 19-9 and a fourth-place finish at the IIAIW State Championship.

TERRY HITE

2 YEARS // 40-28 (.588)

The University of Illinois turned to an alumnus for its second head volleyball coach. Terry Hite, who graduated from Illinois in 1972, played for the Illini during her school days and then went on to help develop the sport in the Virgin Islands. She founded the St. Thomas (Virgin Islands) Volleyball Association and played on the Virgin Islands National Olympic Volleyball Team before accepting the position at Illinois. In two years, Hite's Illini squads compiled a 40-28 record. Competing unofficially in the Big Ten, Illinois finished second in the league in 1975 and fifth in 1976.

CHRIS ACCORNERO3 YEARS // 84-51-7 (.592)

From 1977-79, Chris Accornero led the Fighting Illini. In her first season, Illinois won an impressive 38 matches and advanced to its first ever AIAW National Championship Tournament. In 1978, Accornero's squad won the IIAW State Championship and posted Illinois' last winning season until 1984. Accornero, who played on the 1970 UCLA national championship team, came to Champaign-Urbana from California State College, Dominguez Hills, where she served as associate director for women's athletics and head volleyball coach.

JOHN BLAIR3 YEARS // 56-79 (.415)

Although he never produced a winning record, head coach John Blair consistently produced a competitive Illini team. An assistant coach at Illinois in 1979, Blair served as a player-coach for the Tennessee men's team and as assistant coach for the Volunteer's women's squad prior to coming to Illinois. He also was a participant in the 1977

World University Games in Moscow. While with the Illini, Blair led his team to the 1980 AIAW National Championship Tournament. Blair also guided Illinois through the program's move into the NCAA and into the Big Ten Conference.

MIKE HEBERT13 YEARS // 323-127 (.718)

In 13 seasons, Mike Hebert turned a program around from one that had six consecutive losing seasons to one that reached the NCAA National Semifinals and was consistently ranked among the top in the nation. Hebert became the winningest coach in school history and reached a milestone of 500 career wins while with the Illini. Hebert's squads won four Big Ten titles (1986, 1987, 1988, 1992) went to 11 consecutive NCAA tournaments and reached the national semifinals in 1987 and 1988. During Hebert's tenure, Illinois established itself as a leader in volleyball and won the national attendance title in 1992 and 1993. Prior to coming to Illinois, Hebert served as head coach at New Mexico State and at Pittsburgh.

DON HARDIN

13 YEARS // 234-163 (.589)

After guiding the University of Louisville for eight successful seasons, including six NCAA appearances, Don Hardin was named the sixth head coach in Fighting Illini history, Jan. 19, 1996. A former assistant at Illinois for the 1987 Final Four team, Hardin led Illinois to six NCAA appearances (1998, 1999, 2001, 2003, 2004 & 2008), including three trips to the Sweet 16 in 1998, 2003, & 2008. Hardin was named Big Ten Coach of the Year in 2001 after leading the Illini to a 21-9 record, the second round of the NCAA Tournament and a final national ranking of 20th. Illinois finished the 2003 season ranked 15th nationally and had its best season since 1992, earning Hardin his second Big Ten Coach of the Year honor. In 2008, the Illini earned a No. 9 national seed and finished the year ranked 11th in the final poll. He had only one player transfer in 13 seasons while his players posted a near perfect graduation rate.

KEVIN HAMBLY

5 YEARS // 114-51 (.691)

Kevin Hambly has rapidly built the Illini into an elite teams in the country through strong recruiting, including the Class of 2011, which was ranked third in the nation. Hambly has posted a record of 114-51 in his five years as head coach at Illinois, including a 32-5 mark in 2011, when the Simi Valley, California, native guided the Illini to their first Final Four in 23 years, reaching the championship match for the first time ever. The Illini spent four weeks at No. 1 in both the AVCA and Volleyball Magazine polls, the first time the Illini had reached that pinnacle. Illinois swept the season series from four-time defending national champion Penn State for the first time in school history and earned the No. 3 national seed in the NCAA Tournament. Following the season, Hambly was named Volleyball Magazine's 2011 National Coach of the Year.

HUFF HALL

This year marks the 25th season that the Illinois volleyball program has called George Huff Hall its home. Huff Hall is a versatile multi-use facility and is home to Illini volleyball, wrestling and men's and women's gymnastics. Huff is known for creating the circus-like atmosphere that fostered the term "March Madness" when it was the longtime home of the Illinois State High School Association state basketball tournament.

Illinois has been one of the nation's toughest places for visiting teams as the Illini have compiled a 391-157 (.713) home mark over 40 seasons, including a 244-99 (.711) record at Huff Hall. Prior to 1990, the Illini played primarily at Kenney Gym, while hosting some matches at the IMPE Building (now the ARC), where they accumulated a combined 146-56 record. Additionally, the Orange and Blue are 2-2 all time at State Farm Center. Illinois hosted top-ranked Hawaii at then-Assembly Hall in 1981, then returned for the first time on Oct. 16, 2009, when the Illini topped No. 6 Minnesota, 3-0, in front of a school-record crowd of 7,632. The Illini swept Iowa at the Center on Sept. 27, 2013, in front of 7,061 fans prior to hosting the 2013 NCAA Regional, featuring Wisconsin, Florida State and Purdue. Despite a blizzard outside, the Illini's Sweet 16 matchup with Purdue drew a strong crowd of 4,631, the third-largest showing in program history.

Illinois won 33 home matches in a row from 1987-89 and 22 in a row at Huff from 1991-92 and 2010-11. The Illini have 11 seasons with at most one home loss, going undefeated at home in 1985 and 1988.

Much of Illinois' success can be attributed to the home court advantage created by Illini fans. The Orange and Blue have consistently been ranked among the top 10 in the nation in attendance. Illinois sold out Huff Hall for the Penn State match in 2010, drawing 4,141 fans, then tallied 3,127 vs. Northwestern. The Illini had two more 4,000-plus crowds in 2011 and ranked 10th in the nation in attendance. In 2012, the Illini had five crowds of at least 3,000 fans and averaged 2,809 per match, which was the second-most in school history. 3,770 Illini faithful gathered in Huff Hall on Aug. 31, 2012, for the NCAA banner raising ceremony, marking the largest opening-night crowd in Illini history.

The Illini set a new record for average attendance in 2013, with the help of a crowd of 7,061 at State Farm Center on Sept. 27. The Orange and Blue topped the 3,000 average mark for just the second time ever, breaking a 22-year old record (3,098, 1992) by bringing in an average of 3,117 fans per match.

The Fighting Illini won consecutive NCAA attendance titles in 1992 and 1993. In 1992, the Illini broke the NCAA single-season attendance record as 52,666 fans packed into Huff Hall for 17 matches, which remains the most in Illinois history. Illinois led the nation in average attendance the following year, drawing 2,657 fans per event.

Huff Hall's gymnasium, located on the first floor, contains enough space for two volleyball practice courts and the volleyball game facility.

Creating an intimidating home court advantage for the Fighting Illini, seating is located on all four sides of the court, with permanent seating on the East, West and South sides for a capacity of 4,536.

Huff also houses a training room, a weight room, equipment rooms and locker rooms (used by the men's and women's track & field, volleyball and wrestling teams) in the basement, as well as many academic offices and classrooms on the first, second and third floors. Additionally, athletes can access the 200-meter indoor track at the Armory via an underground tunnel that connects the two buildings.

In 2002, the women's locker and squad rooms were completely renovated. Two years later, the men's locker and squad rooms along with the training and weight rooms were fully renovated.

Prior to the 2014 season, Huff Hall underwent a massive renovation, demonstrating the DIA's commitment to volleyball. A brand new floor was put in, replacing the old basketball court with a more springy volleyball surface to protect the student-athletes' knees. The bleacher seats on the East and West sides were replaced, while permanent seating was added to the South side, increasing the seating capacity from roughly 4,050 to 4,536. With the new South bleachers came a new position for the scoreboard on that end of the gym. Additionally, four large ceiling fans were added above the seating areas on either side of the court to help keep the crowd cool. The University also plans to add new restrooms in the basement, to be completed in mid-October, 2014.

Huff Hall is named for longtime Illinois Athletic Director and coach George Huff. Huff served as Illinois' Athletic Director from 1901 to 1935, during a time in which the Fighting Illini athletic programs enjoyed unparalleled success. Huff was also the driving force behind the construction of Memorial Stadium in 1923.

Prior to Huff's tenure as athletic director, he served as head football coach from 1895 to 1899 and baseball skipper from 1896 to 1919. Known by many of his close friends and business associates as "G," Huff served as manager of the Boston Red Sox in 1907.

Originally called the "New Gymnasium," Huff Hall was designed in the Georgian-Revival Style by Charles A. Platt and University Architect James M. White. The building's architecture matches that of the Armory, Main Library, the Union, and other campus buildings. At the conclusion of its $772,000 construction in 1925, Huff Hall replaced the Military Drill Hall (now known as Kenney Gym Annex) as the home for Fighting Illini basketball.

The "New Gymnasium" was renamed Huff Hall in 1937 following the longtime athletic director's passing. Today, the University of Illinois works to honor the hard work and success of Huff with the George Huff Award. Every year, this award is given to student-athletes who earn a 3.0 GPA for a full academic year.

Illinois athletics has enjoyed a proud athletic tradition in the gymnasium at Huff Hall. Huff Hall served as home for Illinois basketball from 1925 to 1963, when the Fighting Illini cagers won 339 out of 418 games (.811), eight Big Ten championships, and earned two NCAA Final Four appearances. Even though it was more than twice the size of the old Drill Hall where Illinois had previously played, it was realized soon after construction that the building was too small to hold all the Illinois fans.

In 1925, a writer for Illinois Alumni News stated, "It seems high time that the Stadium (referring to Memorial Stadium) be roofed over for basketball. We can't imagine any other way to get in all the customers." The Illinois basketball team played to raucous capacity crowds for nearly 40 years while at Huff Hall, forcing some fans to wait several years to obtain tickets.

The gymnasium in Huff Hall has hosted its fair share of championships at the collegiate and high school levels over the years. In 1940 and 1947, the Fighting Illini hosted the NCAA Wrestling Championships at Huff Hall. In 1930, 1933, 1946, 1948 and 1958, the Big Ten Wrestling Championships came to Huff. Not to be outdone, the IHSA used the gymnasium at Huff Hall for nine of its state wrestling tournaments in the 1940's, 1950's and 1960's, prior to the championships moving down Fourth Street to State Farm Center.

Huff Hall also served as host for the 1991, 1995 and 2003 Big Ten Women's Gymnastics Championships; the 1992, 1995 and 2004 Big Ten Men's Gymnastics Championships; and was the site of the 1993 and 1999 NCAA Men's Gymnastics East Regional.

Huff Hall has played host to many NCAA volleyball tournament matches, beginning with the 1992 first round and regional volleyball matches. Huff would go on to be the site of a 1994 NCAA first-round volleyball match, a 1995 NCAA second-round volleyball match, and the first and second rounds of the 1998, 2001, 2003, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2011 and 2013 NCAA Volleyball Tournaments. The first and second rounds of the 1997 NCAA Women's Basketball Tournament were also played in the gymnasium at Huff Hall.

ILLINI CLASSIC

A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE ILLINI CLASSIC

The four-team Illini Classic began in 1984, featuring Missouri, Northern Illinois, Notre Dame and the host Fighting Illini. Missouri won the inaugural round-robin tournament with a pair of 3-0 wins.

In 1985, Illinois defeated New Mexico State, 3-0, to win its first Classic title. In 1986, No. 4 San Jose State ended a 15-match home winning streak for the Illini, winning 3-1.

In 1987, No. 4 Brigham Young defeated No. 6 Illinois, 3-1, in the title match featuring two of the nation's top returning teams.

The Fighting Illini captured the 1988 and 1989 Classic titles, defeating Nebraska and Pittsburgh. In 1990, No. 6 Stanford pulled off a stunning comeback to defeat the Illini in the title match. In 1991, Illinois scored the last six points in the decisive fifth game, shocking No. 19 Georgia to win the championship.

In 1992, the Classic featured the "Big Eight-Big Ten Challenge" pitting No. 12 Illinois and No. 14 Ohio State against No. 5 Nebraska and No. 16 Colorado. Illinois captured the 1995 title by defeating the Louisville Cardinals in the championship match. That began a winning streak of consecutive tournament titles for the Illini, which stood at six until Florida ended the run by claiming the 2001 title.

In one of the biggest regular-season victories in school history, the Illini defeated No. 1 USC, ending the Women of Troy's then-NCAA-record 52-match winning streak in the 2004 finals. The Illini rallied from 2-1 down to claim the victory in front of more than 3,000 fans at Huff Hall.

The "Stuff Huff" promotion produced 3,219 fans for the 2006 tournament and season opener between Illinois and Illinois State. The Illini claimed their 18th championship with a victory over No. 11 Oregon in dramatic fashion in 2008 and went 3-0 for the titles in 2009, 2010 and 2011. In 2012, the Classic featured just two teams, as the Illini played No. 15 Iowa State on back-to-back nights. Illinois won 3-0 in front of 3,770 fans on opening night, but fell 3-2 the following night. Illinois hosted a pair of top-10 teams in the 2013 Illini Classic. The Orange and Blue defeated Arizona State, 3-2, for Kevin Hamby's 100th career victory, but then fell to No. 6 Washington and No. 2 Texas. The tournament was not a round robin and no champion was crowned nor was there an all-tournament team.

Illinois has won 21 of the 28 outright titles and split with Iowa State in 2012.

LISA ARGABRIGHT

2003 // THIRD TEAM

Lisa Argabright will be remembered for thunderous kills that brought down the house at Huff Hall in 2003. The student section would chant from across both sides of the court, "Jack-Hammer, Jack-Hammer" every time Argabright had a putaway.

The lanky, long-armed 6-5 middle blocker redefined the position at Illinois, hitting .376 for the year and averaging 1.28 blocks per game in 2003. Argabright registered double figures in kills in 26 of 33 matches and recorded a hitting percentage of .400 or better in 15 matches.

Illinois suffered through an injury-plagued 2002 with Argabright missing a portion of the season with mononucleosis and also battling an elbow injury. The Illini finished 13-16 and were overlooked coming into 2003.

As the 2003 season progressed, however, it became obvious that Illinois was a team that could contend for the Big Ten title. Then, in mid-October, the Illini swept Penn State and Ohio State in a weekend for the first time in eight seasons. Argabright hit .429 and had 16 kills vs. No. 11 Penn State and hit .417 with 17 kills vs. Ohio State to earn Big Ten Player of the Week honors. Earlier in the year she earned MVP honors at the University of Connecticut and Illini Classic Tournaments as the Illini won nine straight, the best streak under Coach Don Hardin. With Argabright swinging away, the Illini had their best season in 11 years, going 26-7 with a trip to the Sweet 16.

Argabright led Illinois in kills and blocks for three straight years. She ranks third in attack percentage in a match with 15 kills in 16 swings for a .938 clip vs. Manhattan on Sept. 12, 2003. The two-time All-Big Ten selection finished her career with a .352 attack percentage, fifth in school history while amassing 1,111 career kills and 404 career blocks.

JOHANNAH BANGERT

2009 // HONORABLE MENTION

Johannah Bangert holds the record for the triple and long jumps at Washington High School in Missouri. It's that leaping ability that has transformed Bangert into one of the top blockers in the country.

In fact, Bangert led the nation in blocks in back-to-back seasons, averaging 1.60 and 1.58 blocks per set in 2008 and 2009, respectively.

Bangert etched her name in the Illini record books, setting the career mark for blocks with 653, breaking the old record held by Illini great Mary Eggers. She also holds the Big Ten record for career block assists with 613 as well as the second and third best single-season blocks marks by an Illini with 202 and 179 as a sophomore and junior, respectively. Bangert tied the school's single-match block assists record with 13 vs. both Purdue and Wisconsin and now has five of the top nine on that list.

A three-year starter from a recruiting class ranked No. 6 in the nation, Bangert helped the Illini to three straight Sweet 16 appearances. She was named Big Ten Defensive Player of the Week five times during her career while also earning two Academic All-Big Ten honors and in 2009 and 2010 being named ESPN the Magazine Academic All-District. Bangert covers a lot of ground at the net all the while hitting .27 for her career.

Bangert has had some of her best matches against some of the nation's best, which included teaming with Michelle Bartsch for the match-tying kill vs. Michigan in 2009.

Bangert has the personality to go along with her play on the floor with many rituals and traditions, including wearing purple on Thursdays.

AVCA ALL-AMERICA PROFILES

MICHELLE BARTSCH

2010, 2011 - THIRD TEAM // 2009 - HM

Michelle Bartsch was one of the most well rounded player in Illinois history.

As a freshman, Bartsch played just three front row rotations, working with Johannah Bangert to become a lethal "Killer B" block combination while stopping many of the top left-side hitters on the schedule. As a sophomore, however, Bartsch played every rotation, becoming an effective pass-hitter while also increasing her kill total from 295 to 344. Bartsch averaged 2.24 digs per set as well.

As a junior, Bartsch moved past the 1,000-kill mark after a career-best 448 and earned MVP of the Time Warner Cable Invitational, a tournament that saw the Illini sweep No. 2 Texas in its own arena.

Along with teammate Colleen Ward, Bartsch was one of the top "pin" players in the Big Ten in 2011. She was named First Team All-American by Volleyball Magazine, an All-Big Ten performer and third-team AVCA All-American. She also earned MVP honors for three tournaments. Bartsch became just the sixth Illinois player with multiple 20-20 performances when she did so on consecutive days (vs. Tennessee and Dayton) then added a third 20-20 match with 22 kills and 22 digs vs. USC.

Bartsch was also named the top server at the NORCECA games while playing for the U.S. Junior National team in the summer of 2008. She was also invited to participate on the United States National A2 team multiple times during her college career.

Bartsch ends her career ranked second in attack attempts (4,776), fourth in block assists (422), seventh in kills (1,644), eighth in total blocks (451), and 10th in digs (1,035) and on Illinois' career list. Her 466 digs in 2011 are the seventh most by an Illinois player in a single-season. She led Illinois in kills with 557 in 2011, the fifth-most in a single-season in school history.

JESSICA BELTER

2004 // HONORABLE MENTION

Jessica Belter is one of the top opposite side hitters to play at Illinois. Hitting alongside the likes of Melissa Vandrey and Lisa Argabright, Belter played on three NCAA qualifiers, including the 2003 Sweet 16 Team.

Belter was named AVCA National Player of the Week on Oct. 20, 2003. She erupted for 16 kills in 19 swings for a .737 hitting percentage vs. Michigan State, then registered 12 kills and 11 digs, hitting a match-high .417 with two errors in 24 swings, in the 3-1 victory over Michigan. Belter just missed a triple-double in the win over the Wolverines as she tied her career best in blocks with eight. For the week, she hit .558 with 14.0 kills, 1.7 blocks, and 2.0 digs per game. Belter also had the game-winning kill in game four of a five-game victory over Minnesota at Huff that year.

Having to wear a special wrap on her hand to prevent injury, her success and popularity led to many student fans in the crowd wearing socks over their hands in honor of Belter.

In 2004, Belter ranked eighth in the Big Ten in attack percentage (.324) during all matches, but third in the league (.351) during the 20-match Big Ten season. She was named Big Ten Player of the Week for having monster matches again vs. Michigan State and Michigan, totaling 43 kills and hitting a combined .567 in home victories. She ended her career with 917 kills, including 380 in 2004. She added 108 digs and 90 blocks in her senior season as well.

A first team All-Big Ten performer, Belter was named to four all-tournament teams in her career.

AVCA ALL-AMERICA PROFILES

JENNIFER BELTRAN 2013 // HONORABLE MENTION

Jennifer Beltran used consistent defense to lead the Illini to great heights throughout her four-year career as the Illini's libero. Beltran broke the school single-season digs record as a freshman, tallying 623 digs over 33 matches, then posted the second-most the following season, with 571. Beltran would earn an All-Region Honorable Mention in her rookie season, along with a Big Ten All-Freshman team nod.

Beltran would go on to record four of the top seven single-season marks in program history, becoming Illinois' all-time digs leader on Oct. 12, 2013, at Indiana. The defensive specialist became the first Illini to 2,000 digs on Oct. 30 to help lead Illinois past eventual NCAA runner-up No. 16

Wisconsin, and finished her career ranked second all-time in Big Ten history with 2,220 career digs.

Beltran's leadership in the back row helped lead the Illini to the NCAA title match in 2011, where Beltran would tie and subsequently break the single-match postseason digs record, tabbing 26 digs vs. Ohio State in the NCAA Regional Semifinal, then putting up 32 digs vs. No. 1 USC in the NCAA Semifinal. Beltran was named to the NCAA All-Regional team after helping the Illini advance to their third Final Four in program history.

Following the 2013 season, the Big Ten did not recognize a single libero on its all-conference team, but the AVCA took notice of her hard work, rewarding her with an All-Northeast Region selection and an All-America Honorable mention.

JOCELYNN BIRKS 2013 // THIRD TEAM

Jocelynn Birks erupted onto the scene as a redshirt freshman in 2012, recording the second-most kills ever for an Illini in her collegiate debut, slamming 16 vs. Dayton. She would go on to earn four Big Ten Freshman of the Week honors and a Big Ten Player of the Week along with Time Warner Cable Texas Invitational MVP award after leading the Illini to an upset of eventual national champion No. 6 Texas and a tournament sweep with an invite-leading 60 kills. She finished her rookie campaign with 510 kills, ranking third in the nation among freshmen in kills and fifth in points. A Big Ten All-Freshman team honoree and an All-Big Ten Honorable Mention, she was arguably snubbed that season for any higher honors.

However in 2013, Birks returned for another strong season, posting her second-consecutive 500-kill season, just the third Illini ever to do so, finishing her sophomore campaign ranked third in the nation among underclassmen with 1,010 career kills. The outside hitter finished the season ranked fifth in the Big Ten in kills and points per set and in the top 40 in the NCAA.

Over her first two seasons, Birks posted 19 20-kill performances, none bigger than her 20-20 vs. No. 1 Penn State on Oct. 6, 2012. She collected 21 kills in the upset of No. 6 Texas on Sept. 14, 2012, and registered 25 in a four-set match vs. Michigan on Nov. 17, 2012, despite splitting time with Tayler Onion on Senior Night. She followed that performance with a personal-best 28 kills on 80 swings at Northwestern on Nov. 21.

Birks got hot when it counted in 2013, posting 20-kill matches against ranked opponents Florida State, Kentucky, Texas, Michigan (twice), Purdue and Penn State. She also led the Illini in aces in both of her first two seasons, including putting up eight aces in the final five matches of 2013 en route to earning NCAA All-Regional Tournament honors. Following her sophomore campaign, Birks tabbed Third-Team All-America honors, to go along with a unanimous All-Big Ten selection and AVCA All-Region honors.

AVCA ALL-AMERICA PROFILES

ERIN BORSKE

1995 // FIRST TEAM

44 -- that's the number of kills Erin Borske had in a five-set match against No. 6 Penn State. Those who saw Borske play were impressed, but not surprised. In fact, after that Nittany Lion match, Penn State coach Russ Rose said, "We held Erin to only 44 kills, that's pretty good."

Such were the sentiments of most who saw Borske. She was head and shoulders above the rest on most nights. Even after the alumni match as a freshman, her first competition at Huff Hall, one alum said, "When I saw her, I thought another Mary Eggers."

In just two years at Illinois, Borske had 28 20-plus kills matches, which was the Illinois record until 2005, when Rachel VanMeter recorded her 29th. Her 44 kills vs. Penn State are second in Big Ten history and her 714 kills in 1995 are an Illini record. But Borske was more than a strong offensive player. On Nov. 17, Borske added 26 digs to go with her 41 kills in a five-game victory over Minnesota.

Borske and Mary Eggers are the only two sophomores from Illinois to earn first-team All-America status. At the end of her career, she owned six Big Ten single-match or single-season records, currently holding 13 Illinois marks. She finished the year with 396 digs (second in Illinois history) to go along with her 714 kills in 1995. At the time, Borske had shattered the Big Ten records for kills in a season by 80 and averaged 6.17 kills per game in Big Ten play. She also earned MVP honors in all three tournaments in which the Illini participated in 1995. The Illini defeated Georgia 3-1 to advance to the NCAA Sweet 16. Borske had 35 kills and hit .373 to pace Illinois in that match.

Borske was the Big Ten Freshman of the Year in 1994 after amassing 478 kills and 355 digs. Playing just two seasons, Borske totaled 1,192 kills and 751 digs.

NANCY BROOKHART

1987, 1988, 1989 // SECOND TEAM

Nancy Brookhart and teammate Mary Eggers made for an intimidating combination along the front line during Illinois' back-to-back Final Four seasons of 1987 and 1988.

Brookhart ranked 17th nationally with a .373 clip hitting percentage in 1988 and set a Big Ten single-match record with a .941 clip (16 kills in 17 attempts) vs. Michigan in 1987.

In 1987, Brookhart shared Big Ten Most Valuable Player honors with Eggers and was named to the NCAA Mid-east Regional All-Tournament Team in '87 as well.

Brookhart's 1,669 kills rank fourth all-time at Illinois, while her 540 kills in 1987 set an Illini record, which was eventually broken by Erin Borske in 1995.

Brookhart exploded onto the scene as a freshman in 1985. Beyond Illinois, she played on a United States traveling team, was invited to the U.S. Olympic Festival in 1987, and played at the World University Games during the summer of 1986.

Noted for her excitement and passion for the game on the court, Brookhart once told a reporter, "I've never had so much fun in my life. I come out for every match and find a way to have a good time."

A first team All-American at Glenbard West High School in Glen Ellyn, Illinois, Brookhart missed the 1986 NCAA Tournament after coming down with mononucleosis, but rebounded the following year to not only be named one of the Top 50 players in the country, but earn All-Regional accolades as Illinois advanced to its first Final Four.

LAURA BUSH

1989 // SECOND TEAM

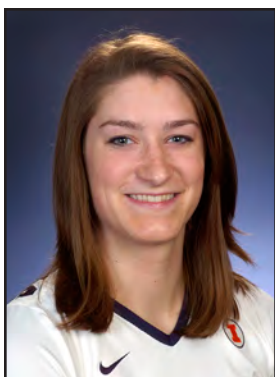

By the time 1989 rolled around, Illinois had established itself as a national power, and like most good baseball teams, the strength of the volleyball team could be found up the middle. Bush became Illinois' fourth superstar middle blocker and third All-American under Mike Hebert, who had quickly gained a reputation in producing strong players at the position.

Ironically, Bush moved from outside hitter to the middle after Mary Eggers sustained an injury during a match early in the 1988 season. Even at the outside, Bush developed into one of the Illini's top blockers.

Bush, who led Illinois with 449 kills in 1989, also garnered first team Academic All-America honors by the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA). A native of one of the small-school powers in Illinois, Stewardson-Strasburg, Bush earned a perfect 5.0 grade-point average during her first semester on campus.

Illinois Athletic Director Neale Stoner helped coin the phrase "The '80s belong to the Illini," and with Bush, Eggers, Brookhart and others, the Illini not only advanced to the Final Four in volleyball during the 1988-89 season, but the "Flying Illini" did so in basketball as well. The following year, Bush and one of the stars of the basketball team, Kendall Gill, shared the spotlight as the Illini's Female and Male Athletes of the Year.

In that 1989 All-America season, Bush led Illinois to the Regional Final and a No. 7 national ranking while not only leading the Illini in kills, but blocks (116) and digs (308) as well. She also became the third player in team history to win the Sandy Scholtens Award.

LAURA DEBRULER

2009 -- FIRST TEAM // 2008 -- SECOND TEAM

Laura DeBruler helped represent a rebirth of Illinois volleyball during the 2008 and 2009 seasons.

The hard-hitting precision swings of the 5-10 player made her an instant fan favorite, even as a freshman in 2007. That year DeBruler led all freshmen nationally in kills per game en route to All-Big Ten Honorable Mention accolades. She had 28 kills in her collegiate debut against Bowling Green in 2007 and finished with 577 for the season.

Over the next two seasons, DeBruler earned two All-America honors all while leading the Illini to back-to-back Sweet 16 appearances. She became one of the more popular players on campus, not only because of her skill and athleticism, but also because of her energy and humility.

The 2010 season was one of high expectations for DeBruler and the Illini. Early in the season, she helped the Illini to victories over No. 2 Texas, ending the Longhorns' 25-match home court winning streak, and No. 2 Penn State in front of a sold out Huff Hall, ending the Lions record 65-match Big Ten win streak. She became Illinois' all-time leader in kills (1,883) and attacks (4,806) vs. Wisconsin before suffering a season-ending ACL tear a week later.

Over her career, DeBruler earned eight Big Ten Player of the Week honors, two unanimous selections as First-Team All-Big Ten, and became just the fourth player in Illinois history to be named First Team All-America. During her career, DeBruler was named to 12 all-tournament teams, including being named MVP of three. In 2009, DeBruler ranked 15th nationally in kills per set (4.46) and 14th in the nation in points per set (4.96) while being named MVP of two tournaments.

MARY EGGERS-1988 HONDA AWARD 1986, 1987, 1988 // FIRST TEAM

In a golden era of Illinois volleyball full of great players, one stood out from the rest. At 5-11, she wasn't the tallest player on the floor, but as the News-Gazette sportswriter Joe Milas described, "While others can jump higher, perhaps hit the ball harder, no one gets more out of each attack attempt than Eggers. Her ability to hang in the air, a la Michael Jordan, lets her see where to place the ball over, around, or through an opponent's block. Her intense expression freezes the other team, and, just when they're expecting a hard-hit ball, Eggers softly taps it over for a winner."

A perhaps unassuming player off the court, no one was more competitive on it. A record-setting runner and talented basketball player in high school, Eggers chose to pursue her favorite sport, volleyball, in college.

Once when a tornado warning halted play during a match, head coach Mike Hebert found Eggers and a teammate diving to the floor while playing handball in the hallway.

Not only did Eggers earn three first team All-America awards, she earned the Honda Player of the year award in 1988-89. She was the Big Ten Freshman of the Year in 1985 and earned four first team All-Big Ten selections and the league's Most Valuable Player in 1986, 1987 and 1988. Eggers led the nation in hitting percentage in 1986 and 1988, setting an NCAA record with her .455 mark in 1986. Her career hitting percentage of .420 stood as the NCAA record until 1993 and currently ranks third all time.

Eggers was the driving force behind two Final Four appearances for Illinois -- in 1987 and 1988. She holds Illinois records for most kills in a career (1,761) and has the top-three seasons in terms of hitting percentage (.455 in 1986, .436 in 1987 and .433 in 1988) in school history.

She played with the USA National Team, competed professionally in Europe and currently is the head coach at Elon University.

KIRSTEN GLEIS 1992 // FIRST TEAM

Kirsten Gleis made the most of her one year at Illinois, getting the Illini back to the Elite Eight for the first time in four years. Gleis, a Dutch citizen, transferred to Illinois to complete her degree in economic geography. She had started for the National Team of Holland in the 1992 Olympic games in Barcelona.

At the time called perhaps the best player in Big Ten history, Gleis helped the Illini to a share of the conference championship. Her play and that of her teammates were instrumental in Illinois averaging over 3,000 fans per match in 1992. The Illini hosted both the NCAA first and second rounds and NCAA Regional, falling to No. 2 Stanford, 3-1, in the Regional Final.

Illinois head coach Mike Hebert discovered Gleis while scouting for venues for the team's European trip, and she became the second All-American at Illinois from Holland, joining Petra Laverman, the third team All-American in 1990.

Gleis was named to every all-tournament, all-region and All-America team possible, including earning MVP honors at the Reebok Challenge and the Illini Classic. She totaled 456 kills, 45 aces, 106 blocks and 236 digs in her only season in Champaign as the primary offensive and defensive player. She was named Big Ten Player of the Week three times.

Her influence went beyond the stat sheet. Posting a near perfect grade-point average, Gleis was the one the Illini went to when "we needed a steady influence on the floor, in team timeouts, or when the team needed a boost," according to Hebert.

HILLARY HAEN

2010 -- THIRD TEAM // 2009 -- HM

Like a starting quarterback of a football team, Hillary Haen was the engineer behind a team which reached as high as No. 5 in the nation in 2009 and emerged a legitimate Final Four contender in 2010 moving up to No. 3 and finishing the year No. 9.

Haen was regarded as one of the top setters in the country in 2009 and 2010 and the accolades reflect that. She was two-time all-Big Ten selection, an all-Mideast Region choice, and became just the second setter in Illinois history to be named an All-American, joining Erin Virtue.

Haen was 16th in the nation in assists in 2009 and 17th nationally in that department in 2010. She moved into fourth on Illinois' all-time career assists list at 3,956 and her 1,471 assists during her senior season rank eighth best.

Haen earned four All-Tournament accolades in her final two seasons, and was named MVP of the 2010 State Farm Illini Classic after posting 134 assists combined in three Illinois victories.

As a sophomore, Haen was a right side hitter during her front row rotations and totaled 162 blocks for her career. In addition, she tallied 910 digs and 53 service aces.

Illinois' success in the late 2000s coincided with the recruiting class of 2007, which was ranked No. 6 nationally. Haen was considered one of the top three setters of that class. In her four years, Illinois advanced to three Sweet 16s; won 92 matches, including 20 over ranked opponents; and posted three straight 20-win seasons. In 2010, Illinois ended Texas' 25-match home court winning streak, defeating the No. 2 Longhorns in three sets; and won a thrilling match over No. 2 Penn State, halting the Nittany Lions' record 65-match Big Ten win streak.

The Crystal Lake, Illinois, native was as accomplished off the court. The accounting major earned three straight Academic All-Big Ten honors.

TINA ROGERS

1992 // SECOND TEAM

One of the most popular players in Illinois history, Tina Rogers came to Illinois from one of the state's small-school giants, Mt. Pulaski, leading the Hilltoppers to the 1989 state title and earning News-Gazette Player of the Year honors.

Andrew Bagnato of the Chicago Tribune wrote "On a campus whose sports spotlight is dominated by men's basketball and football, she is the lone female athlete big enough to need only a first name. At Illinois there is Jason (Verduzco), there is Deon (Thomas), and there is Tina."

After missing part of the 1991 season following arthroscopic knee surgery, Rogers didn't emerge as a force until the 1992 season. Nicknamed "The Big Hurt" after White Sox slugger Frank Thomas, Rogers ranked third in the Big Ten in hitting percentage (.385), one of four Illini in the top five. Her 67 aces in 1992 led the conference and are still an Illinois record, and her 143 career aces are fifth all-time.

Rogers played in one of the best eras of Illini volleyball. Illinois led the nation in attendance in both 1992 and 1993 and qualified for the NCAA Tournament in each of Rogers' four years. A four-time Big Ten Player of the Week, Rogers led the Illini to a 90-39 mark in her four years.

After the graduation of Lorna Henderson from the 1992 team and Kirsten Gleis' decision to return to Holland, Rogers was the focal point of the 1993 offense, setting an Illinois record with seven 20-kills matches, a mark which is currently seventh-most in Illinois history. Her 32 kills vs. Southwest Missouri set an Illinois record for kills in a three-game match. She was honored with the 1993-94 Dike Eddleman Award, given to Illinois' top male and female athletes.

AVCA ALL-AMERICA PROFILES

ERIN VIRTUE

2003 // HONORABLE MENTION

Erin Virtue helped signal a revival in Illinois volleyball. A major reason for the Illini's first Sweet 16 appearance in five years, Virtue had 1,627 assists in 2003, fifth most in Illinois history. A first team All-Big Ten honoree, she was second in the league in assists per game (13.56) and was named to three All-Tournament teams.

Virtue helped engineer home victories over No. 11 Penn State and a come-from behind victory over nationally-ranked Minnesota at Huff Hall. A victory over No. 19 Louisville sent the Illini into the NCAA Sweet 16 in Hawaii.

Virtue made her presence felt in all areas, leading the team and ranking seventh in the Big Ten in service aces (40), while ranking second on the team and 18th in the conference in digs (2.68). She also totaled 15 double-doubles on the season. A native of St. Charles, Illinois, Virtue helped guide her high school, St. Francis, to second in the state as a senior.

Virtue and the Illini looked forward to another strong season in 2004. She was named a Preseason All-American that year, and Illinois was ranked in the preseason Top 25. The senior helped the Illini to one of the program's most memorable wins in school history -- a comeback three games to two win over No. 1 USC, the two-time defending national champion who entered the match with the longest win streak in NCAA history, 52 matches. With the win, Illinois moved to No. 9 in the polls. Unfortunately, Virtue suffered a career-ending ACL tear the following weekend.

"Erin helped to transform the direction of this program," her coach Don Hardin said.

COLLEEN WARD

2010 -- SECOND TEAM // 2011 -- FIRST TEAM

When Colleen Ward elected to transfer to Illinois from Florida for the 2010 season, coach Kevin Hambly said that put Illinois in the discussion for the Final Four and national championship. Ward, the No. 7 ranked player in her class coming out of high school, did just that for the Fighting Illini. In two years, the Naperville, Illinois, native had 1,051 kills and 714 digs and propelled the Illini to the Sweet 16 in 2010 and all the way to the national championship match in 2011, the first in the history of the program.

Nicknamed "Ace Ward" by longtime play-by-play man Dave Loane, Ward had an impressive debut setting the Illinois record for aces in a match with nine vs. BYU. Ward served eight straight points to help the Illini pull away from No. 2 Texas early in the season in Austin. With Laura DeBruler missing most of the 2010 season due to injury, Ward stepped in as Illinois' top scoring threat.

In 2011, Ward was named to two All-Tournament teams and had a combined 29 kills in road victories over Ohio St. and Penn St., helping the Illini to their first win in State College in 16 years.

But Ward saved her best for the NCAA Tournament. In an interesting twist of fate, she returned to Gainesville, her college home for two years, for the NCAA Regional. Ward was named the Most Outstanding Player of the Regional, posting 38 kills and 20 digs while hitting .319 in wins over Ohio State and Florida. The last point saw Ward hit high hands off the Gator block and the ball sailed all the way past the base line. She served four straight points in the critical fifth set in a 3-2 victory over No. 1 USC in the national semifinal and was named to the all-NCAA Tournament Team after combining for 44 kills and 35 digs in matches against USC and UCLA.

Ward led Illinois with 101 kills in the NCAA Tourney and was named First Team All-American.

HONOR ROLL

Johannah Bangert was named ESPN the Magazine Academic All-America in 2010.

Mary Eggers won the Honda/Broderick National Player of the Year Award in 1988.
